Premier Gets New Powers In Rebellion

De Gaulle Forces
Handed 475 To 100
Assembly Setback

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin Tuesday night bolstered his hand at the helm of France with a ringing parliamentary triumph over the challenging but numerically thin forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

The National Assembly voted Pflimlin special emergency powers to fight the Algerian Nationalist rebellion.

But paradoxically Algeria remained in the firm grip of military-colonialist forces, opposed to the Pflimlin government.

And the military commander at Algiers—dictator over the whole great French North African region—got a new endorsement of faith from Pflimlin.

Vote Is 475 To 100
Thus the French on the European side of the Mediterranean were firmly under civil and quasi-military control of the Paris government.

The French across the sea in North Africa were in rebellion against Paris and in the midst of the 3½-year-old Algerian Nationalist rebellion—also against Paris rule.

The Assembly vote was 475 to 100. It was the Premier's best showing yet in a busy and turbulent six days in office. Together with the special state of emergency powers he wields in France, it left Pflimlin in a stronger position than any other postwar premier.

Virtually all the right-of-center Independent-Republicans voted for Pflimlin. The Communists did, too, although he has said he spurns their support. Only the Gaullists, the extreme-right Poujadists and a handful of others opposed him.

Salan To Apply Powers
In a statement just before the vote Pflimlin made clear he would leave the application of the special powers in the hands of Gen. Raoul Salan, commander in chief in Algeria, at least for the time being.

He said the Cabinet has no intention of changing the army's present control of Algeria.

So far as Salan's personal role is concerned, he said, it is too early to pass any judgment.

The powers granted Pflimlin are an extension of those originally given the Guy Mollet government in 1956, and subsequently extended to succeeding Cabinets.

Six Boys Killed In Car Smashup

DENVER (AP) — Six high school boys were killed Tuesday when a sedan in which they were riding crashed at high speed into a steel marker pole at the northeast end of Denver.

Five boys were dead when officers reached the scene, four of them in the twisted wreckage and the other at the bottom of an embankment 75 feet away. The sixth died in a hospital two hours later.

Detective Sgt. Tom O'Neill estimated the southbound car was traveling at 90 miles an hour when it swerved to the left shoulder on a curve, skidded in the gravel and hit the steel pole.

All six youths were students at the suburban Adams City High School. O'Neill identified them as Nairias Younger, 18; Harry Hayes 16; Al Fleck, 18; Marvin Newberry, 17; James Robert, 19 and Urban Jacques, 16.

Jet-Airliner Crash Kills 12

Scene Of Airliner Disaster

Crowds gather at the scene of the crash of a Capital Airlines Viscount plane about five miles from Brunswick, Md. All 11 persons aboard were killed yesterday when the airliner crashed and exploded after colliding in the air with a Maryland National Guard jet trainer. One jet crewman perished but the military plane's pilot survived.

One Survives Collision Near Brunswick, Md.

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP) — An Air National Guard jet trainer hurtled out of a cloud into the side of a Capital Airlines passenger plane Tuesday, killing 12 persons. Only the pilot of the military plane survived.

Seven passengers and four crewmen aboard the Chicago-to-Baltimore Viscount plane perished in the crash. The body of a second person in the Air Force T33 jet trainer was found in the wreckage.

The lone survivor, Capt. Julius R. McCoy of Baltimore, a full-time flight engineer assigned to the 104th Fighter Group of the Maryland Air National Guard, parachuted to safety. He was in Frederick Memorial Hospital with burns on his face and hands.

Pilot Says Jet Blew Up

Lt. Col. Edwin Warfield, chief of staff of the Maryland Air Guard, said McCoy told him he was flying east at 8,000 feet when his jet blew up. He said he did not remember pushing the seat ejector button, Warfield related, or recalling seeing the passenger plane.

Adding this to what witnesses said they saw of the actual crash, it would indicate McCoy was thrown or ejected from his plane, which continued on through a cloud and hit the passenger plane.

The second occupant of the jet trainer was identified as Pfc. Donald A. Chalmers of Baltimore. He reportedly was a member of the group's ground crew.

An Air Guard spokesman said the plane was on a routine training flight, and orientation flight for Chalmers. It was a local flight and as such limited by regulations to a 100-mile radius and compelled to land at its home base.

Investigation Launched

In Washington, the Air National Guard Bureau convened an accident investigation board made up of Maryland Air National Guard officers and representatives from the Air Force.

The Viscount left Chicago with 34 passengers, but most of them departed at Pittsburgh. It was running about a half an hour late on the last leg of its flight.

The collision occurred over the lush Potomac River valley eight miles west of this railroad town and about 50 miles northwest of Washington.

Plane Collision Victims Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the list of 12 persons killed Tuesday in the collision of a Capital Airlines Viscount plane and a National Guard jet plane near Point-of-Rocks, Md.:

Capt. Kendall J. Brady, 39, Viscount pilot, Park Forest, Ill.
Flight officer Paul F. Meyer, 26, Viscount co-pilot, Markham, Ill.

Jessie Hunt, 26, hostess, Hamburg, N. Y.
Helen Irizzary, 25, hostess, Long Island, N. Y.

Mrs. Sidney L. Johns, Pittsburg, Mo.

Thomas Olerbach, Chicago, Ill.

Dr. and Mrs. Lester Gliedman, Towson, Md.

Thomas H. Morgan, Long Island, N. Y.

James Dickinson, Columbus, Ohio.

Pfc. Donald A. Chalmers, Baltimore (passenger on the jet trainer).

Impetus Given Congress Air Safety Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two congressional investigations of air safety were set swiftly in motion Tuesday as a result of the air collision over the Potomac Valley.

Twelve persons died in the crash of an Air National Guard jet and a Capital Airlines ship.

Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) told the Senate: "This points up again with tragic clarity the urgency of a single control of our air space, with both military and civilian planes under one direction."

Monroney announced an aviation subcommittee he heads will open hearings Thursday into the crash and also the one April 21 near Las Vegas, Nev., in which 49 persons lost their lives in the collision of a civilian and a military plane.

"We can no longer await the snail-pace consolidation of the various air traffic control patterns," Monroney said. "The present dangerous situation requires immediate corrective legislation."

A House Government Operations subcommittee announced an investigation into the government's role in aviation, starting with an inquiry into Tuesday's collision.

Chairman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) announced the first hearing will be held Thursday. He said the hearing would be part of a comprehensive review of federal civil aviation responsibilities over the last two years.

Also in the House, Rep. Prince Preston (D-Ga.) said there is a dangerous lack of coordination between military and civilian agencies with military planes "flying at random" across lanes assigned to civilian airlines. Preston heads a subcommittee which investigated the Las Vegas collision.

Rep. Burdick Seeks To Annul Marriage

FARGO, N. D. (AP) — The three-month marriage of 79-year-old Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND) and his 30-year-old bride headed for the courts Tuesday.

Burdick, in a complaint filed here by his son, Quentin, seeks to annul his Feb. 28 marriage to his attractive secretary, Jean Rodgers Jackman.

"She had no intention of consummating the marriage," the complaint said. It also alleged Mrs. Burdick's divorce from Donald Jackman more than a year ago in Reno was inadequate and that her marriage to Burdick at Arlington, Va., is void.

The lawmaker said in Washington he assumes Mrs. Burdick, his third wife, will contest the annulment proceedings.

Restore Prosperity Drive Urged By Ike

Cautions Against Wage-Price Spirals

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower called on the nation Tuesday night to rally all its forces to promote an early business upturn. He said the recession appears to be slowing down.

The President also cautioned against disastrous wage-price spirals. He appealed to both business and labor union leaders to guard against "another dismal sequence of ever-rising costs and prices."

And he said that if such hikes are not based on increased productivity, American consumers will remind those leaders of it "in ways that are clear and painful."

He said: "And in the process the whole economy will suffer." The President added that "certain decisions will shortly be taken in the field of taxation," after consultation with congressional leaders, with respect to the economic slump.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said in response to a question that the decisions of which Eisenhower spoke could be either for or against tax reduction.

In an address prepared for delivery at the economic mobilization conference of the American Management Assn., the President again called on private business to assume a major share of the job of restoring full prosperity in the United States.

Eisenhower spoke to about 2,000 American business leaders attending the mobilization conference at the Astor Hotel. His speech also was broadcast coast-to-coast on television and radio.

Expressing great confidence in America's future and in prospects for an early end of the recession, Eisenhower said:

"In short, the future is bursting with vitality and promise: It is welcomed by rising aspirations of our people; our advancing productivity to meet those expectations; the vast areas of new enjoyment, utility, and adventure opened up by scientific advances; the growth of schools, hospitals research centers; the rapid strides in wide sharing of personal income, education and security."

"The question, then, is going to be—not one of surmounting our problems—but one of rising to our opportunities."

Tito Says Yugoslavia To Shun Soviet Bloc

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito has told Moscow that Yugoslavia will not join the Soviet-led bloc, and further attacks on this country can harm the Soviet's prestige, Communist sources said Tuesday.

These sources said both positions were outlined in a letter Tito sent to Moscow in reply to one from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The Soviet leader reportedly demanded that Yugoslavia join the Soviet bloc.

The Yugoslav reply has not been published here. Reliable sources say it was drafted last weekend by the party's Politburo and signed by Tito.

Jakarta Forces Invade Islands

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Government land, sea and air forces have unleashed their long-awaited offensive in east Indonesia, striking on two islands 200 miles apart.

The government announced Tuesday the capture of Gorontalo, in the heart of the rebellious North Celebes, and seizure of a rebel-held airfield on Morotai Island.

An army spokesman, Lt. Col. Rudy Pirngadie, said loyal units stormed ashore last Wednesday on beaches near Gorontalo—a town of 25,000 population 125 miles southeast of Mendoa, the rebel capital. He did not say when the town was taken.

Airborne troops leaped before dawn Tuesday on Morotai, a 32-mile-long island of 6,000 inhabitants which was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's advance headquarters in the World War II drive that recaptured the Philippines.

Marines and helmeted troops from the government-held South Celebes then waded ashore from landing craft. A communiqué said a rebel B26 bomber was shot down during the fighting and plunged into the sea.

Sen. Morse Heads Probe Of Latin America Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) was picked Tuesday to head an inquiry into the anti-American feeling in Latin America that erupted into mob attacks on Vice President Nixon.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved the investigation by its Latin American subcommittee, of which Morse is chairman.

Morse said the inquiry will get under way next week and will be thorough, lasting several months. He told reporters that members of the full committee had unanimously rejected his offer to resign the chairmanship of the subcommittee if they thought he would be politically motivated in conducting the inquiry.

Morse said a charge of political motivation had been made by Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md.), not a member of the committee.

Earlier, Morse told interviewers the State Department's own testimony showed that Nixon's recent mob-married tour was a "trouble-causing" trip which he never should have undertaken.

He referred to testimony before the full committee Monday by Robert Murphy, deputy under secretary of state for political affairs.

Murphy testified that three reports of possible assassinations were sent to Nixon before he left Colombia for Caracas, Venezuela, where he and Mrs. Nixon were stoned and spat upon.

In view of this and advanced warnings of demonstrations elsewhere, Morse said, the vice president should have carried out his mission to attend the inauguration of a new president in Argentina and returned directly to the United States.

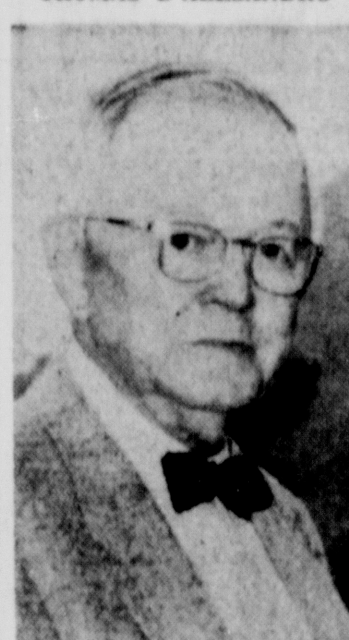

J. GLENN BEALL

THOMAS D'ALESSANDRO

J. MILLARD TAWES

Primary Victors

The above quartet swept to victory in Maryland's primary election yesterday. Major Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore defeated George P. Mahoney and five others in the Democratic race for U. S. Senate while Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall was easily renominated over token opposition. Two other members of the Democratic "harmony" ticket scored easy victories, J. Millard Tawes for governor and State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller.

Stassen Far Behind In Pa. Primary Race

McGonigle, Lawrence Have Big Leads

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Swamped by early returns from Philadelphia, Harold Stassen dropped far behind pretzel manufacturer Arthur T. McGonigle Tuesday night in their contest for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

In the Democratic gubernatorial primary, Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh rolled up a tremendous early lead, both in Philadelphia and in the state. Opposing him was Lieut. Gov. Roy Furman.

McGonigle and Lawrence had the firm backing of their respective statewide party organizations. Voting throughout the state was light—a situation which always favors the organization-backed candidates.

In the two contests for U. S. Senate nominations, McGonigle's running mate, Rep. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, was far ahead of Weldon Heyburn, the candidate on Stassen's slate. Gov. George Leader, Lawrence's running mate, was far ahead of Clarence P. Bowers, who campaigned with Furman.

Returns from 3,671 of the state's 8,887 precincts in the Democratic contest for governor showed:

Lawrence, 275,312
Furman, 50,861

In the Democratic Senate contest, from 3,671 precincts returns showed:

Leader, 275,312
Bowers, 82,404

On the Republican side, the count from 4,078 precincts was:

McGonigle, 284,070
Stassen, 125,396
William S. Livengood Jr., 43,362

In the GOP Senate contest, returns from 4,078 precincts showed:

Scott, 316,856
Heyburn, 44,894

Ex-Grid Star Held In Jones Death Probe

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese police said Wednesday that Joseph P. Crowley, 48, former Yale football star, has been arrested in connection with the May 8 death here of his brother-in-law, Connecticut businessman T. A. D. Jones Jr.

Jones, 45, was the son of the 1907 All-America quarterback and Yale football coach from 1920-27. He was found dead in his Imperial Hotel suite. His body was bruised and battered. Death was officially attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

He had come to Tokyo May 5 with Crowley and Maryland accountant Frederick M. Kissinger to buy an old tank ship. Police Inspector Shirakawa announced Crowley's arrest but declined to give details.

D'Alesandro Faces Beall In November

District Contest

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro swept to victory over paving contractor George P. Mahoney and five others Tuesday night in Maryland's bitterly contested primary for U. S. Senate.

The Baltimore mayor's victory, his 23rd straight in a colorful 32-year career, set up a November contest between him and Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall, who was easily renominated over token opposition.

Mahoney, who was the Democratic senatorial nominee in 1952 and 1956, issued a statement at 11:45 p. m. congratulating D'Alesandro.

This concession signaled a sweep by a party "harmony" ticket for nominations to Statewide offices. D'Alesandro had originally filed for the gubernatorial primary but withdrew last January and entered the Senate race as a member of the ticket.

With unofficial reports from 1,184 of the state's 1,337 polling places, D'Alesandro had 102,492 votes, Mahoney 91,526. James Bruce, former ambassador to Argentina, was running third with 49,640.

Beall Runaway Victor

D'Alesandro was leading in or had won enough counties and Baltimore City legislative districts to list 75 apparent nominating unit votes in his column, compared with 52 for Mahoney and 25 for Bruce.

Returns from 998 polling places gave Beall 42,272 popular votes, and 152 apparent unit votes, to 5,006 and none for his only opponent, scrap metals dealer Henry J. Laque Jr.

The race between D'Alesandro and Mahoney had remained in doubt until long after the anticipated victories of his running mates, J. Millard Tawes for governor, and State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller. The fourth member of the ticket, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, was renominated without a fight.

Opponents of the ticket had counted on a heavy vote. It failed to materialize, as early estimates placed the turnout at about one-third of the eligible 829,612 Democrats and 339,804 Republicans.

Tawes Easy Winner

With 1,171 polling places reporting Tawes' unofficial total was 202,919 popular votes. Morgan L. Amamo had 12,526. Joseph A. Phillips 13,373, and Bruce Campbell, 19,789.

Unofficial returns from 1,166 polling places gave Goldstein 131,423. Joseph L. Manning 57,259 and Sidney London 21,939.

The Beall-Laque runaway was the only Republican contest on the statewide ballot.

Foley Appears Certain Winner

(Special to The News)
WASHINGTON — John R. Foley seemed assured of victory in the Democratic primary for nomination to Congress from the Sixth District early today, but his leading contender had not conceded.

With 239 of the district's 259 polling places reporting, Foley had an unofficial count of 15,378 to the 9,481 of his nearest competitor, Edward D. Storm of Frederick.

Trailing were Joseph H. Mann of Poolesville with 7,989. David A. Heller of Silver Spring with 2,625 and Richard H. Speidel of Chevy Chase, 1,254. Mann conceded shortly after midnight.

All of the 20 missing precincts are in Montgomery County, home county of all but Storm.

Luber Defeated

BALTIMORE (AP) — John C. Luber, veteran speaker of Maryland's House of Delegates, and at least three state senators were among those beaten Tuesday in their bids for renomination.

Luber, who had served a record eight straight years as speaker, failed to win Democratic nomination for the first time since he ran for the house in 1938.

He was knocked out in a 16-man race for the six Democratic seats to the house from Baltimore's 5th District. He polled 8,955 votes to 9,124 for the lowest vote-getter of six nominated.

Incumbent senators defeated in their bids for renomination included Anthony F. DiDomenico in Baltimore's 2nd District, Joseph Mattingly in St. Marys County and Laymon Redden in Caroline County.

Dulles Says U.S. Might Help Lebanon Quell Rioters Despite Soviet Threats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles served notice Tuesday the United States might act to help Lebanon put down anti-government rioters despite Soviet threats against outside interference.

Dulles said there are "a number of areas of possible action" but said he does not anticipate that U.S. troops will be needed.

The secretary, speaking at a news conference, accused President Nasser's United Arab Republic of intervening to help anti-government forces, perhaps in cooperation with Communist elements.

He refused to spell out what new moves might be taken but made clear the Eisenhower administration would not be frightened out of doing what it believed right because of Soviet warnings.

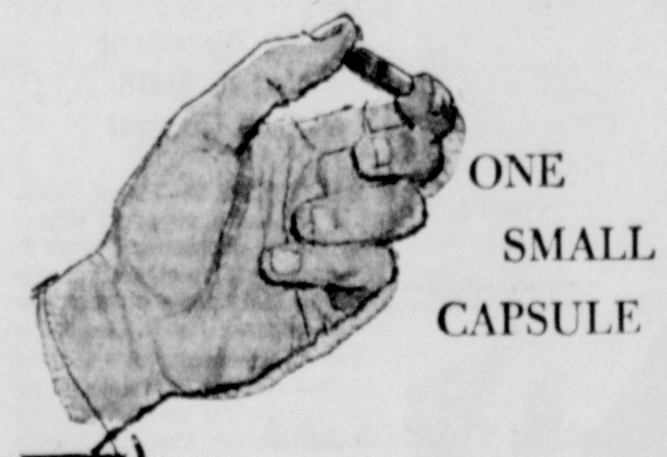

"We are not deterred anywhere in the world from doing what we think is right and our duty by any Soviet threats," Dulles said.

This was his answer to a Soviet government accusation Sunday that the United States was preparing to land Marines on the Lebanese coast. The Soviet statement warned of what it called "serious consequences" to mid-East peace if the United States sought to interfere to help President Camille Chamoun's government.

Dulles, in replying to Moscow's blast, did not mention American warships and reinforced Marine detachments operating in the Mediterranean. Nor did he call attention to the fleet of Air Force Globemaster transports flown to Germany for use in evacuating Americans from riot-torn Lebanon if needed.

"I would say that we are not anxious to have a situation which would be in any sense a pretext for introducing American forces into the area," Dulles said.

"We hope and believe that will not be called for, and the situation, to date, does not suggest that it would be called for."

Antirecession Move Launched By Governors

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A governors conference panel swung into a drive Tuesday to get President Eisenhower to summon congressional chiefs of both parties and draft a nonpartisan program for fighting the business slump.

Then, with business out of the way for the day, the state executives flew off for a look at the missile testing center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Connecticut Democrat, spearheaded the antirecession maneuver. Eight other governors, both Republicans and Democrats, quickly teamed up with him—after chatting and scrapping over what caused the recession and what should be done about it.

Ribicoff proposed that the governors petition the President by resolution. Adoption of a resolution takes a three-fourths vote—36 of the 48 governors.

"Wouldn't it make sense," Ribicoff inquired, "to work out a program on which everyone could agree?"

"It makes sense to me," Howard Pyle, an Eisenhower assistant told the panel.

A former governor of Arizona, sitting in as an observer, Pyle said the governors could be sure of White House cooperation.

Some governors say they have been getting word that Eisenhower has no intention of calling in Democratic and Republican leaders of Senate and House.

Six Charged With Failing To Support Invalid Mother, 84

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Two brothers and their four sisters have been charged in Circuit Court with failing to support their 84-year-old mother, who is bedfast in her home.

The charges were filed Monday by Prosecutor Fred V. Hall, who said Mrs. Annie Covey is without food or care except that provided by neighbors.

County officials said reports of Mrs. Covey's plight have been made periodically since July 1957 and that officers have been called to the home at night by neighbors hearing her screams for help.

Those charged are Herbert and Hubert Covey, Mrs. Elsie Winchester, Mrs. Delma Oakes and Mrs. Donna Calland, all of New Castle, and Mrs. Crawford Hudson of Muncie, Ind.

Hubert Covey has been living in his mother's home. All the children say "we are doing all we can," one official said.

Lebanon Peace Efforts Collapse

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A mediator's efforts to work out a compromise between opposition leaders and Lebanon's pro-Western government collapsed Tuesday.

Former Premier Saeb Salam, the top opposition leader in Beirut, denied he had agreed to any negotiations.

"We are standing firm on our demands," he declared.

The opposition has warned that the bloody turmoil which has shaken Lebanon for 11 days will continue until President Camille Chamoun resigns. About 200 persons have been killed.

Raymond Edde, a prominent political leader, stepped in as a mediator to seek a compromise.

He met with Salam, Tripoli opposition chief Raschid Karami and others opposed to the government. Gen. Faud Chehab, the army chief of staff, also sat in.

The compromise plan reportedly proposed by Edde called for formation of a neutral government headed by Gen. Chehab. Chamoun would serve until the end of his six-year term Sept. 23, but the constitution would not be amended to allow him to succeed himself.

Opposition leaders, fearing Chamoun will seek another term, have demanded his immediate resignation.

Army Takes Wraps Off Its Tough 'Police' Force

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—The Army Tuesday took the secrecy wraps off the existence of STRAC—the tough, fighting force it has poised and ready to fight limited brush fire wars anywhere in the world. Last week when the Air Force must furnish the transportation.

STRAC, the Army revealed, furnished the 500 Army troops which were air-lifted to the Caribbean last week when Vice President Nixon was beset by rioters in Venezuela.

But that was a minor matter compared to what STRAC is capable of doing with its more than 125,000 men organized into four divisions, said Maj. Gen. Robert F. Sink, its commander.

He said that STRAC, which has been in existence for several years, was organized partly as a result of the nation's experience in Korea. It is intended to get highly trained units to the scene of trouble in a hurry and "stop the little mess before it gets to be a great big mess."

The existence of STRAC and the units that compose it were announced simultaneously in Washington and at a news briefing here.

Gen. Sink, a tough paratrooper from Lexington, N. C., had one major complaint: STRAC must call on the Air Force or the Navy for transportation when it has to move.

Although the Defense Department presumably would furnish the planes and ships if and when they were needed, Sink said that a joint commander would consider this lack of transportation at his command a fault of the system.

STRAC stands for Strategic Army Corps. It is the tough, fighting core of STRAF, which, to the Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

STRAC's four divisions are the 82nd Airborne stationed at Ft. Bragg, the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

STRAC's command post is 18th Airborne Corps Headquarters at Ft. Bragg, and its largest concentration is at Ft. Bragg.

Five Germans, Brazilian Observe State Primary

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Five Germans and a Brazilian observed American democracy in action today during Maryland's primary election.

The one woman and five men visited two Baltimore County precincts before going to the Towson Court House for a briefing by Judge John E. Raine Jr., on the part played by the judiciary in the election.

Judge Raine said the courts are always ready to see that election laws are complied with and are quick to move when the laws are knowingly violated.

But the judge added that some suits "are frequently prompted by the desire of candidates to get publicity in the newspapers just before an election."

The visitors came here under the auspices of the State Department of International Exchange Services and were under the guidance of Dr. Brownlee Corrin, director of the field politics center at Goucher College.

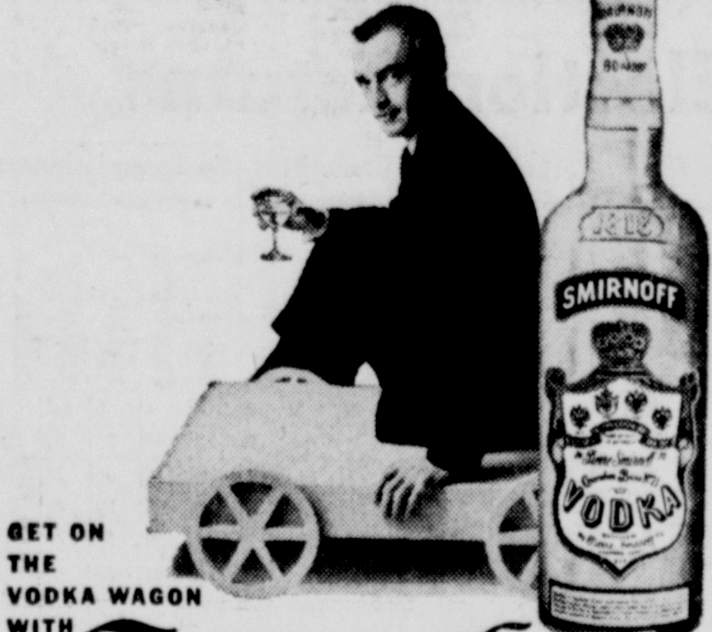

The delegation also visited Chief Gilbert L. Deyle of the county police bureau, who explained what police do to assure the lawful casting of ballots.

Maryland Farmers Start Catching Up Field Work

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland and Delaware farmers made good progress in catching up with field work last week, despite wet weather, but they are still behind.

Soil moisture conditions ranged from normal to wet in Maryland during the week ended May 17, according to the weekly crop-weather report from the University of Maryland's agricultural extension service.

Almost three-fourths of the corn land had been plowed and about a third of the corn crop planted by week's end, the report said. A year ago, two thirds of the corn crop was in the ground.

Hay and pasture made good growth during the week and planting of tobacco was started in a small way in St. Marys County and some other sections of Southern Maryland's tobacco country.

The report said early apple varieties in the Hancock area of Western Maryland have a good set of fruit, with set on late apples still uncertain.

"Wheat is beginning to 'head out' on the Shore," it said, "and is in the boot stage in North Central Maryland. Growth is generally good."

Pilot Unaware His Jet Crashed Into Airliner

FREDERICK (AP) — Capt. Jules R. McCoy was reported late Tuesday to be in a state of shock and still unaware his military jet trainer had crashed into a Capital Airlines passenger plane.

"So far as he knew it was an explosion," said Henrietta Cramer, asst. director of Memorial Hospital here.

McCoy's plane flared into flame and he was severely burned about the face, head and hands even as he was thrown from the wreckage to parachute to earth as the sole survivor of a collision that took 12 lives.

Leo Davis, a Sunnyside, Md., farmer, saw McCoy drifting toward a mountaintop and set out in his truck to find him.

Just as Davis reached the farm house of a friend, George Fagin, McCoy staggered out of the woods.

Fagin and Davis drove McCoy to the Frederick hospital.

"All the way he talked about his wife and two children in Baltimore," Davis said.

"He told us he was blown out of the plane."

McCoy walked from the truck into the hospital.

McCoy, whose home is Baltimore, is a member of the 104th fighter group of the Maryland Air National Guard.

Third Capital Crash In Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tuesday's mid-air collision near Brunswick, Md., was the third fatal accident involving Capital Airlines planes in a circle about 30 miles across.

The air centers on Harper's Ferry, W. Va., where Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia meet.

On Aug. 31, 1940, 21 passengers and 4 crewmen died when a Capital airliner crashed near Lovettsville, Va. The company then was known as Pennsylvania Central Airlines.

On June 13, 1947, 47 passengers and 3 crew members died in a Capital crash near Lookout Rock, W. Va., some eight miles from Charles Town.

Today, 7 passengers and 4 crew members died in a collision between a Capital Viscount and a T33 National Guard trainer near Brunswick. One man in the jet trainer also died.

Woman Dies In Crash

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Shirley Stafford, 21, was killed and her mother and baby daughter were injured Tuesday when their car ran into a pole.

Mrs. Stafford's 20-month-old daughter, Debbie, was reported in poor condition at Lutheran Hospital.

The dead woman's mother, Mrs. Dolores Barrett, was listed in fair condition.

Bad Start For One

VANCOUVER (AP) — British Columbia observed Forest Safety Week last week. It was a success for most of the 60,000 workers in the industry, although one man got off to a bad start.

Safety Chairman Anthony F. Douglas disclosed that a worker lost two front teeth when a rope hit him in the mouth as he was raising a flag to mark the beginning of the week.

K. Of C. Convention Will Open Friday

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The Maryland State Council of the Knights of Columbus will hold its 60th annual convention here Friday through Sunday.

The speaker at the Saturday night banquet will be the supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus, Judge Harold J. Lamboley of New Haven, Conn.

More than 500 delegates are expected for the three-day meeting.

UAL Will Inaugurate New Flight

BALTIMORE (AP) — United Airlines will inaugurate a new DC7 flight from Baltimore to Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles, starting June 6.

A. J. Kress, district sales manager for United, said the 58-passenger airliner will leave Friendship International Airport daily at 12:05 p. m. (EDT), stop at Washington and arrive at Chicago at 2:25 p. m. (CDT). The plane will leave Chicago at 3:10 p. m. and fly non-stop to Los Angeles, arriving at 7:20 p. m. (EDT).

The return flight to Baltimore leaves San Francisco at 8:30 p. m.

Britain And U.S. Walk Softly In Algerian Crisis

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Great Britain and the United States are both walking softly in the French crisis over Algeria, and Britain is walking even more softly in the Lebanese case.

Whatever they once thought about Algeria as an international problem, they recognize the present upheaval as primarily involving French politics no matter how grave its implications may be with regard to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There is a certain amount of relief that De Gaulle has repudiated any desire to become a dictator, and confidence in his sincerity.

Yet there is also a feeling that his very disavowal has removed some of the urgency under which the French Assembly strongly supported the Pflimlin government last Friday.

Another test of the government's strength will come on a measure to extend to Algiers the emergency powers already voted for Pflimlin in France.

Of interest regarding the Anglo-American attitude toward Algiers is that Paris, always claiming Algiers an integral part of France, nevertheless always handles it separately.

With regard to Lebanon, the British and American governments are agreed the little country's government should be free to handle its own affairs without outside pressure.

Britain's Foreign Minister Selwyn - Lloyd, however, expresses greater confidence in this than anyone in the United States.

The United States has supplied police weapons, and made a big show of sending planes to Europe to rescue Americans if necessary—the same sort of show put on in the Caribbean last week in the Nixon case.

Selwyn - Lloyd says things in Lebanon don't look too bad and that care for British nationals is on a routine basis.

One of the troubles with setting a firm Anglo-American policy regarding Lebanon is that, while Nasser's United Arab Republic has been conducting an agitation campaign, there are other issues. Among them is an effort by President Chaoumou's friends to get the constitution changed so he can have another term. There is also a split between Christians and Moslems over joining the United Arab Republic. Christians predominate in the country, and the constitution provides for a Christian president.

Another problem is that Arab infiltration from Syria and Egypt is not sufficiently well-defined to meet the specifications—or lack of specifications—of the Eisenhower Doctrine.

What the situation in both the French and Lebanese cases amounts to is that the United States and Britain are doing some footwork around the edges of the ring without being given an opening for intervention despite their very great interests.

French Crisis Personalities

By The Associated Press

Here is a lineup of key figures in the French political crisis:

GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE—67, stern hero of World War II, provisional president 1944 to 1946. Once hoped his own party would win National Assembly majority but later dissolved it. Left political battlefield six years ago.

PREMIER PIERRE PFLIMLIN—51, Alsatian lawyer, Cabinet minister in 15 governments but never premier until May 13. Leads popular Republican Movement, slightly left - of - center Catholic party. Has won emergency powers, promised to act decisively to restore unity.

BRIG. GEN. JACQUES MASSU—50, hawk-nosed, six-foot paratroops commander who won support with tough tactics against Algerian nationalists. Fought with Free French and in Indochina. Took leadership in Algerian defiance of Paris and demands De Gaulle's return to power.

LT. GEN. RAOUL SALAN—59, cautious compromiser who commands all French troops in Algeria. Fought in Indochina and under De Gaulle in World War II. A puzzle to Paris, seems to go along with Massu and has shouted in Algiers: "Long live De Gaulle." PRESIDENT RENE COTY—75, respected lawyer and long - time political leader now above party maneuvering by virtue of non-partisan office. Has urged Algerian leaders to obey Paris authorities. Would name prospective premier—possible De Gaulle—if Pflimlin is defeated.

JACQUES SOUSTELLE—46, chubby anthropologist drawn into politics by World War II. As governor general of Algeria in 1955 and 1956 won support of French Algerians by pressing war against nationalists. Seeks De Gaulle's return and won rousing reception in Algiers after clandestine flight from France.

INTERIOR MINISTER JULES MOCH—65, Socialist who ordered tough, effective measures against rioters in 1948. Recalled by Pflimlin to direct uniformed police, whose actions could make or break the new government.

Joseph Priestly, an English chemist, discovered that gum from certain trees would rub out pencil marks, giving rubber its name.

"Lazy" Salesmen Fault Of Bosses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 1,500 sales executives were told Monday at a "recession busting" conference that salesmen have grown fat and sassy during the postwar boom—so much so they've forgotten how to sell.

If companies would get their salesmen on the ball, said conference keynoter Glenn R. Fouché, the current business recession would be just about licked.

Fouché is president of National Sales Executives, Inc., sponsor of the three-day international distribution conference. He also is vice president of Parade Publications, Inc.

In his speech and at a news conference later, Fouché said the problem of lazy selling is not the fault of salesmen but of their bosses.

Should Maryland "Modernize" Its 333-Year-Old Seal?

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Put Lord Baltimore in a spaceship, give the farmer a rotary plow and the fisherman a rod and reel and you could really bring Maryland's state seal up to date, a state official suggested Monday.

Earle R. Poorbaugh, director of the Department of Information, said it would be a logical extension of what he described as attempts to modernize the 333-year-old seal of the founding Calvert family.

The latest complaint was from Mrs. George F. Divine of Arlington, Va., who pointed out—as some others before her—that the Latin (or Italian) motto "Fatti Maschii Parole Femine" is misspelled.

Mrs. Divine, a graduate in Italian languages and literature, said the proper Italian spelling for two of the words should be "maschi" (only one i) and "femmine" (two m's). The motto means "Action Befits Men, Words Befit Women."

Poorbaugh agreed that would be the correct modern spelling but said at the time Lord Baltimore wrote it the words were probably spelled correctly. "Dante's spelling would not be correct by modern standards and neither would Chaucer's spelling of English words," Poorbaugh said.

"A seal that pleased all our forward-looking correspondents would bear little resemblance, I fear, to the one Maryland has used for three centuries.

"It would have the state motto in modern spelling, of course—but why stop at that?"

"To please future critics as well as present ones, we would have to replace the shovel in the farmer's hand with a rotary plow, more into a space ship. For now, we have to admit it, our revered founder is mounted on a horse (shown on the opposite side of the seal from that commonly depicted).

"We could then put Lord Baltimore's

BLENDED WHISKEY, 86 PROOF, 65% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

NOW! WONDERFULLY NEW, THRIFTIER WAY TO BUY GASOLINE!

America's six finest gasoline grades (OCTANE RATINGS) custom-blended to fit any car today

-from this one spectacular new blending pump!

This you can have! Today's big difference—in gas costs and performance—something 3 out of every 5 car-owners have never been able to get, up to now!

- EXACT OCTANE-STRENGTH YOUR ENGINE NEEDS
- HIGHEST-OCTANE "REGULAR" PRICE GAS ON THE MARKET
- SAVINGS UP TO $1.00 A TANKFUL OVER OTHER "PREMIUMS"
- MOST MILES PER DOLLAR...SMOOTHER, KNOCK-FREE POWER

It's the big difference, all right. You'll feel and hear it from your engine... count it in what you save on gas.

Cars are not unlike men—in what they need to do their stuff. Few men can eat, or thrive on identical food.

Two cars of the same make, model, age and even the same mileage can vary as much as 8-10 octane points in what they need to perform best!

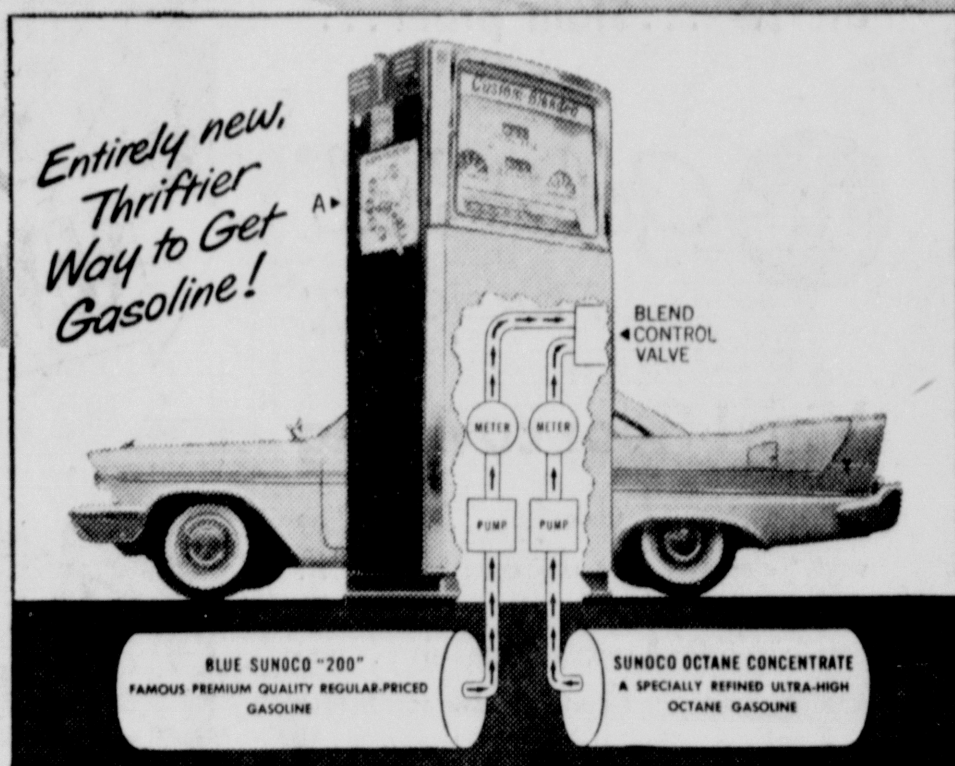

It's hopeless to expect that all the cars running today can be correctly powered on 2 or 3 "ready made" gasoline grades. That's what Sunoco's brilliant new blending pump corrects... by custom-blending on the spot the right fuel, for every car it fills. Ready and waiting, today! Come see for yourself!

In money, performance, mileage...

TODAY'S GREATEST GASOLINE VALUES...FOR YOUR CAR!

THIS IS WHAT HAPPENS: Attendant sets dial (see A) for any one of the six "custom blends" desired. This precisely controls proportions drawn from each of the two buried tanks. In one, premium quality straight Blue Sunoco "200", with higher octane than any other gasoline at "regular" price; in the other tank, Sunoco Octane Concentrate... far higher octane than any car needs. Meters and control valve accurately deliver the exact octane quality called for.

SOME EXAMPLES: CARS AND THEIR CUSTOM-BLEND NUMBERS:

'57 Plymouth — 6, V-8..... 200	'58 Imperial..... 260

Get complete pocket chart at any Sunoco station... showing all cars, new and old, with their Sunoco Custom-Blend grades. It's simple... your right Sunoco grade is easy to remember by these numbers: '200'—'210'—etc., (numbers, incidentally, were picked solely for simplicity and convenience).

Special Note: You may discover, with the right Custom-Blend, your car needs less octane than you've been buying! Start with blend your pocket chart shows; then, next time, try the next lower Custom-Blend. Many cars do perform smoothly, powerfully, on a lower Sunoco Custom-Blend. Try it!

100 Year Old Houses In Tour

Marking "100 Years Living in Allegany County" this year's tour sponsored by the Allegany County Historical Society, includes both private homes and public buildings. It is being held Saturday from 11 until 5 o'clock.

The Cumberland Free Public Library was constructed in 1850, after the original building, the first public school in Western Maryland, was found to be inadequate. It was used as a private school, called Allegany County Academy, continuously until 1929. At one time it was a military academy but later became co-educational. Since 1934 it has housed the library.

The Woman's Civic Club house was built about 1855 by Jonathan Magruder, whose daughter, Rebecca, became the wife of George Henderson, Jr., grandfather of Former Judge George Henderson. It was purchased by the late Hugh A. McMullen, former comptroller of Maryland, and used as his residence until the death of Mrs. McMullen. In 1956 it was purchased by the Woman's Civic Club.

Located at 218 Fayette Street, the John J. McMullen home was erected by Peter Hein about 1858 and is still intact as to its original construction. Especially interesting is the walnut paneling in the library; the specially designed and unusual shape of the windows on the second floor, fireplaces in every room on the first floor, including the kitchen, all of which are the original ones, and usable. Among the authentic pieces of furniture are two very old corner cupboards, of split walnut, over 100 years old; and a brass and prism chandelier in the dining room.

One of the oldest and best constructed houses in the area, the old Frost home on the National Highway is now the property of Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Foose. It is said that during the Civil War it was a station for exchange of war information. The Frosts were Union sympathizers. Changing hands frequently, it was once an inn, a grocery

Mapleside Club Plans July Picnic

A Fair committee was appointed at the meeting of the Mapleside Homemakers Club held at First EUB Church, with Mrs. Joseph Kuhlman presiding. Mrs. James R. Smith, Mrs. Eleanor Snider, Mrs. Glenn Diehl and Mrs. Helen Browne were named after Mrs. Smith reported on the fair. Announcement was made of RWSC at College Park, June 16-21. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Snider will be club delegates. Plans were formulated to have a picnic at Constitution Park July 17; and for Mrs. Kuhlman to arrange a ceramic class for the fall.

The meeting was opened with the flag salute, led by Mrs. Charles Moore. Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie gave the history of the hymn, "Jesus Still Lead On." Mrs. Smith read a eulogy in memory of Mrs. George Reiter, who died April 26. A moment of silent prayer followed. Roll call was answered with reports on labels from recent purchases. Mrs. Alma Johnson spoke on selecting shirts. Mrs. Charles Moore gave the Sunshine report and Mrs. Glenn Diehl reported on bonds held by the club. Members were reminded of the Short Course tea, May 29 in the Woman's Civic Club house.

Following the meeting a Mother's Day program was presented. Mrs. Florence Taylor read an article on the "First Formal Observation of Mother's Day." Gifts were presented to Mrs. Ora Penner, the oldest mother in the club, and Mrs. Snider, the youngest. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dolan Lewis and her committee. Forty members were present.

store, with the owner living in part of it; and later the home of the late Alexander Adams, who erected the spacious porches on the front and rear. Of particular interest are the keystones over each window and the front door in fan shape. The basement, as well as house, are in their original shape and size. The double chimneys indicate that at one time there were fireplaces in each room.

City Employees Seek Pay Rate Change

Local 812, Municipal Employees Union, yesterday asked that a minimum wage commensurate with other city departments be established at the Lake Gordon water plant to erase what it called "inequities" which exist there.

The Mayor and Council at a meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves made no decision. Eves said another session will be held and it appeared council was agreeable to some adjustment. But the problem is a complicated one. The union pointed out some of the city's water plant employees are salaried, others on an hourly rate. The rate ranges from 75 cents to $1.38 an hour. To further complicate matters, some of the 11 employees live rent-free in city-owned dwellings within the watershed; some are furnished heat and lights and others are not.

Classification of duties forms another facet of the problem. A few of the employees do work of a more skilled nature yet receive the same pay as a laborer. In another instance, a laborer and a laborer-foreman are receiving the same pay.

The question facing the city is whether to give the minimum and "go into the real estate business" by charging for the dwelling, heat and lights; and to classify the men according to the job performed.

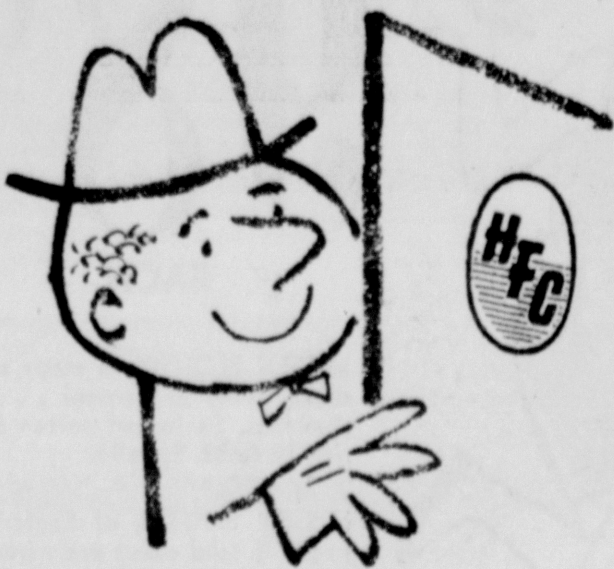

Both Commissioners William H. Buchholtz and John J. Long said the problem should be settled all at once, establishing of a rate pay, classification of the men and deciding what method was to be used in determining use of the houses in the watershed.

It was pointed out that $1.54 minimum rate exists in the parks, street, and water departments. Two personnel at the airport get $1.48 an hour. At the same time, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out some of the City Hall personnel doing important work get less than the minimum amount.

C. W. Shipes, president of Local 812, said the union wanted the minimum established and the city could bill the men for the houses and other benefits. Then, he said, the city should classify the men and make the necessary adjustments.

Seniority rights of employees were also discussed during the session.

Others attending yesterday's session included City Attorney Thomas B. Finan; Junior Emerick of the Street Department; and Lewis Simpson, Clark Zembower and John White from the Lake Gordon plant.

The Trauma Picture, Men!

Do admen have a deep-rooted guilt complex? According to a survey conducted by Gallup & Robinson, they do. The survey, "Sponsor" magazine revealed, asked 100 housewives and 100 admen whether they considered admen respectable, honest, hard-working, neurotic, hard-drinking, and, as you probably guess, the ad guys were a lot harder on themselves than were the housewives. Only four admen figured the housewives would think they were honest; by actual count, twenty of them did, which shows how hard it is to figure a housewife's brain.

Anyhow, "Sponsor" thought it ought to dig a little deeper into the psychological and emotional problems of Madison Avenue and they found a psychiatrist who has, among his thirty-five patients, seven advertising men. "People who work in television," says the psychiatrist, "tend to be more frightened and anxiety-ridden than people in any other field."

What's the chief cause for anxiety among the ad fraternity, the spadebeard was asked. His answer was both illuminating and, in a gory way, hilarious: "There don't seem to be clear-cut channels of responsibility, so they have a tough time making decisions. Executives in other businesses don't seem to worry as much about a decision; they make it and stick to it more."

"I have a patient from the garment center who's a partner in a big firm. Last year he decided on a revolutionary new way for making buttonholes. He and his partner invested $50,000 in new machines for making buttonholes, put a big advertising campaign behind the new process and marketed their whole line around these new buttonholes."

"The process flopped. My patient and his partner lost a big chunk of money but he wasn't unduly worried. He'd made a decision and stuck to it. But within two weeks after his advertising campaign was launched, the president of his agency became a patient of mine."

"I think he felt guilty because the money he lost wasn't his. When he was a little boy, he used to play marbles. He told me about one time when he'd lost all his marbles. He didn't cry; he wanted to go on playing. So he got his younger brother to lend him all of his marbles. Within an hour, he'd lost them, too. Then he cried."

And that, friends, is where the expression "He's lost all his marbles" came from. It's a little frightening, isn't it, when you get to thinking that behind every ad campaign there may be some secret neurosis. I mean a guy gets locked in a closet as a child and twenty-five years later we get the flip top box.

As a group, the psychiatrist said, ad men are covered with guilt over largely imaginary faults. Far from being dishonest, said the psychiatrist, they "lean over backwards trying to be ultra-scrupulous because they think they're suspect." What's more they enjoy their work and therefore they feel guilty at taking money for it.

What, "Sponsor" asked, are the more overt symptoms of admen's guilts?

"Some that I've known have been immersed in extreme anxiety and their way to reassure themselves seems to be spending to the hilt. . . There seem to be several causes for this sort of spending pattern. For one thing, advertising can move ahead faster than those in more stable industries; they can also plunge downwards faster. And finally, since their day is devoted to telling other people to spend money, they seem to feel guilty if they don't spend at the same or at a faster rate."

You know what the client is to the agency man? A father image. "Not only does he have ultimate authority such as final okay on copy approach, but he 'doles out the allowance'—that is, he controls the budget. It's logical, therefore, that a lot of the repressed conflicts an agencyman may have had with his father are transferred onto the client." And that's the big trauma picture at the moment, men. Let's lay it on the couch and see if it can make a social adjustment. (Copyright, 1958, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Amazing! The GAS Burner-with-a-Brain

For velvety-smooth lemon sauce, set the GAS Burner-with-a-Brain at 250 degrees. Follow your favorite recipe. You don't need a double boiler.

Makes sauces smooth without a double boiler

Most dessert sauce failures are caused by heat that's too low or too high. But with the GAS Burner-with-a-Brain you get perfect results because you get perfect heat control—even without a double boiler! And it's all automatic. The flame turns itself up and down—continually—to keep the temperature inside the pan exactly right.

Other Features of 1958 Automatic GAS Ranges

The GAS Burner-with-a-Brain is only one reason why smart young moderns are cooking with GAS. It's like having a helper in the kitchen. Guaranteed Smoke-Proof Broiling—there's never any smoke, so you can broil with the door closed. New Powerful Lifetime Burners—no costly replacements ever! Ritter Files For Council

Harold K. Ritter, 521 Williams Street, filed yesterday with City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery as a candidate for City Council subject to the June 3 municipal primary.

Ritter, 42, has been a brakeman and conductor on the B&O Railroad for 15 years and is currently working out of the Cumberland yards. He owns and operates Ritter's Grill at 204 Baltimore Avenue in partnership with his wife.

He is secretary of the Maryland Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and has been treasurer of Local 267 for six years. Ritter is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion and is a veteran of World War II. He also holds membership in Cumberland Moose Lodge and the El Fidel Club.

Married to the former Margaret Courtney, they have two daughters, Charlotte, a senior at Fort Hill High School; and Barbara, a junior at Fort Hill.

This will be his first venture into politics.

Ritter is the ninth council candidate to file or announce his intention.

Deadline for filing is Friday at midnight.

Armory, Play Area Lots Are Purchased

The Mayor and Council this week authorized the purchase of lots needed for the proposed National Guard Armory and a recreation facility.

Approved were checks for $300 to Arthur J. Weber, agent, for three lots in Ridgedale Addition needed for the armory and to George F. Hazelwood Jr., for two lots in Rose Hill Addition. The latter purchase will be paid by funds from the Playground Bond Issue of 1947.

City officials were told receipts from parking meters totaled $835.55 for the week of May 11, up $1.42 from the week before.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, supported a Congressional bill in 1906 that would have substituted uniform weights and measures of the metric system for the inches, tons and gallons in use in the United States.

TO HEAD CONVENTION—J. C. Burdette, Baltimore, grand president of the B&O Veterans Association, and Mrs. Ralph Gandy, DuBois, Pa., grand president of the auxiliary, will preside at the three day convention of the organization here. The convention opens today with registration at the Fort Cumberland Hotel and winds up Friday night. Howard E. Simpson, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, will address the convention.

Bar Unit Plans Memorial Rites

A memorial ceremony for three local attorneys who have died within the past year will be conducted at 10 a. m. today at the Court House by the Allegany County Bar Association.

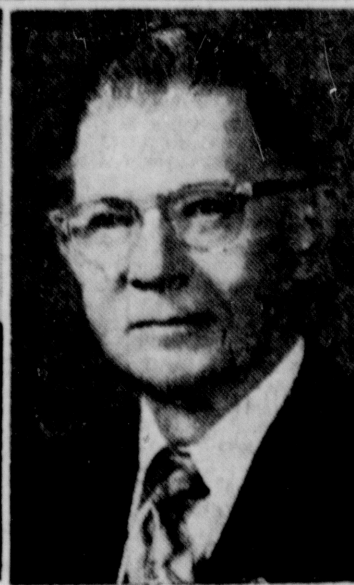

James Alfred Avirett, as president of the bar association, will preside at the ceremony to which the public is invited. Mr. Avirett will introduce the three members who in turn will deliver the eulogies for the departed members.

The speakers will be William C. Walsh, eulogizing the late F. Brooke Whiting; William H. Gelpert, eulogizing the late William J. Gunter, and W. Earle Cobey, eulogizing the late Lewis M. Wilson, who died May 12. Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris also will be called upon for closing remarks.

This ceremony has been arranged by the memorial committee which includes Milton Gerson, chairman; Matthew J. Mulaney, Earl E. Manges, Thomas B. Finan and John M. Robb. The last program of this type was held in the main court room April 1, 1957.

Constitution Park Grounds And Pool Readied For Opening On Memorial Day

Beautiful Constitution Park opens its approximately 83 acres to the public Memorial Day, May 30 and, as usual, the accent will be on family relaxation. Park Superintendent Robert R. Golden said yesterday that a "bad spring" has slowed re-habilitation work considerably but the park site should be in fair condition by opening day. Also opening May 30 will be the park pool which is being operated by the Recreation Department. Golden and his staff are getting the pool in shape, cleaning the bathhouse which was renovated and redesigned last year; and cleaned and replaced part of the sand in the filter plant which filters water in the pool three times in each 24 hours. For the time being, Golden said he plans to keep the upper portion of Grove 1 closed to allow grass planted there last year to take root. The appearance of this grove — which was completely bare when the park opened a year ago — is the most noticeable improvement, he said. Elsewhere, the park staff is continuing to replace wooden tables with those made from concrete. Five have been completed and are ready for use in the lower section of Grove 1 while a large 28 to 30 foot concrete table is being constructed in Grove 4. All the concrete benches have wooden seats and a new-type grill adjoining for those wishing to "cook out." The five tables completed include four singles and a double, Golden said. Golden said the park is in good condition generally and dirt fills made in Grove 3 have provided additional space for three more tables. Hard-surfaced roads are in good shape; it is hoped to improve the park's dirt roads and to complete renovations around the duck pond. Golden said he and his staff were faced with the largest repair job this spring in any of the 12 years he has been superintendent. Part of this was the result of a heavy outbreak of malicious destruction at the park during the winter months and bad freezes which cracked stone work. Golden said three wooden tables were destroyed and broken up for firewood and a number of signs destroyed by vandals. Park personnel hope to have swings, slides, see-saws and merry-go-rounds installed and horseshoe pits conditioned within the next few days. The "menagerie" at the park will remain the same. Caged are a large bear named "Atsme," a male and female pheasant, "Jasper" the deer. Twenty-four ducks of assorted sizes are in the duck pond. Last year was considered an "off year" but Golden estimated that more than 100,000 visited the park between May 30 and Labor Day. Annually, cars from most all of the 48 states are noted in the park which has become a center for family, Boy and Girl Scout, church and other organization affairs. Golden said Sunday was a good day. Many of the picnic tables were in use while other visitors spent the day enjoying the beauties of the park or visiting the animals. The first outdoor concert by the Municipal Band was held Sunday night at the park amphitheatre. Golden said some work remains to be done there as the result of hoodlums tearing out several benches during the winter months.

Since each citizen of Cumberland has a stake in the park, Golden asked their cooperation this season in keeping it clean, policing areas where picnics are held and conducting themselves in a proper manner. He said the public should observe all signs and keep automobiles off the grass areas. Ample parking facilities are available in the park and on the adjoining ballfield area.

Speed limit of 15 miles an hour is strictly enforced. Fewer Transients MEXICO CITY (AP) — The government says only 30,000 farm workers have gone from Mexico to the United States during the first four months of 1958. More than 100,000 crossed the border for such employment during a similar period last year.

County Must Bear Added SS, Pension Plan Cost

Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the Allegany County Welfare Board, has notified the county commissioners that there is enough money in the administrative section of her budget to pay the county share of the retirement and Social Security for employees in her department.

About a week ago the State Department of Public Welfare notified Mrs. Westerfeld that a change in the law during the last session of the legislature made the county responsible for payment of 20 per cent of the amount for the retirement and Social Security coverage of employees of the Welfare Board.

The amount which would be due is $3,361 and Mrs. Westerfeld said she believes there will be

PTA Honors Principal With Review Of Her 35 Years As An Educator

Miss Bernice Winner, a teacher for 35 years and principal of West Side School for the past nine years, was honored with a surprise "This is Your Life" program at the school PTA's final meeting of the term.

James Alfred Avirett, master of ceremonies for the program, introduced Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Carroll, Mrs. Raymond Burkey, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Stapleton, Gilbert Winner, Charles Winner and his daughter Margaret, all members of Miss Winner's family.

Incidents in her life were related by Mrs. Rose Stegmaier Ambrose, Miss Agnes Carroll, Mrs. Florence Finan, Miss Sara Wright, Mrs. Brooks Starcher, Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, and two former students, Carole Ransom and Gregory Caswell.

Among the score of congratulatory messages read at the ceremony was one from Miss Winner's 92-year-old mother. Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Hirsch presented flowers to Miss Winner's 92-year-old mother. Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Hirsch presented flowers to Miss Winner. Mr. Avirett gave her an engraved charm bracelet and a memory book, and Dr. Lillian C. Compton presented her with a pin and certificate signifying life membership in the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Members of the faculty also were honored at the meeting. Gifts were presented by Mrs. William Holbrook, past president, to Miss Anona Brehany, Mrs. Mary Brodie, Mrs. LaVerne Cross, Miss Alyce Edwards, Miss Marie Ingles, Mrs. Nellie Isaacs, Miss Helen Kreiling, Miss Adele Malcolm, Miss Leona Myers, Mrs. Ruth Propst, Miss Anne Rigglesman, Mrs. Betty Stafford, Mrs. Josephine Yarnall, Mrs. Margaret Carroll, Miss Pauline Cirra, Mrs. Margaret Faulk, David Phillips, Harry Malcolm.

A gift also was presented to Mrs. Lucy Klavuhn, who is retiring from the cafeteria.

Mrs. Donald Herring was elected president of the PTA for next year; Mrs. Blane Schindler, vice president; Mrs. Gordon Sutherland, secretary, and Mrs. Edgar Morrison. Dr. Compton installed the new officers.

Miss Kreiling's second grade room won the prize for having the most parents present.

The school's brass quartet and the orchestra played several selections, and refreshments were served.

Senior Citizens Meet Tomorrow

The Senior Citizens Club sponsored by the Recreation Department, will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Elks Club, South Centre Street.

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Campbell of the United Brethren Evangelical Church, will present a piano-accompanied duet.

Dictator Trouble For Nikita?

Nikita S. Khrushchev, believed to be in a struggle to survive as premier of the Soviet Union and boss of the Communist Party, may be up against the never-ending effort of dictators to protect themselves in a despotism.

After Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin's rough stuff, Poland reached for a few freedoms and more self-government. There seemed a chance that Marshal Tito would be won back to Moscow. But when Hungary decided to take a long step toward freedom, Khrushchev crushed the aspiration cruelly. He could see his own head falling if freedom fighting got a start.

Now, according to international reports, the boys in the Kremlin are closing ranks to "get" Khrushchev or force him to adopt the old Stalinist policies of crushing any popular aspirations ruthlessly. At Brussels the Reds look down their noses at the American exhibit of voting machines, calling them foolish. They are, of course, to any dictator who wants to keep his job.

One interesting phase of the still unclarified situation is the report that Red China is using its weight to affect Russian policy. If that is true at this early stage, it cannot be a comfortable thought for any Russian. It foretells the time when Moscow will be a satellite of Peiping unless it is willing to fight the rising juggernaut of the Far East.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
Censorship By Taxes

Out of the office of Senator Estes Kefauver came a circular announcing a ruling by the Internal Revenue Service, in effect, censoring the advertisements of privately-owned power companies. These enterprises are told that they may not use as a business expense funds expended on informing the public about themselves, their position in the nation's economy, their status before the law or their competition with TVA, the government-owned power organization which exists on the taxes of the American people.

The position taken by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Russell C. Harrington, according to Senator Estes Kefauver's release, is that advertising costs, to be deductible, must bear "a reasonable relationship to the business activities in which the enterprise is engaged."

Is not telling the stockholder and the consumer that the industry is menaced by untaxed competition a "reasonable relationship"? If not, what does Commissioner Harrington call it in simple English?

Further the Commissioner is quoted to have said: "It has been the consistent practice of the Internal Revenue Service, however, not to allow deductions of expenditures where the facts of the case indicate that they were incurred primarily for lobbying purposes, for the promotion or defeat of legislation, for political purposes, for the development or exploitation of propaganda . . . relating to any of the foregoing purposes, or for the furtherance of matters in the area of political controversy."

Whereupon Commissioner Harrington advised Senator Kefauver that he, Harrington, was ordering the field forces of the Internal Revenue Service to investigate power company advertising. In December 1957, Senator Kefauver was further advised, according to the Kefauver release, that the Internal Revenue Service was going over the 1956 returns of power companies to see whether they used their own money as a business expense to defend themselves.

This might interest other industries because it is tantamount to censorship of advertising by the Internal Revenue Service and it would be worth noting what the courts do about it. Thus far, the power companies, which I asked, have received no official notice of this action, although they do have copies of Kefauver's circular.

On the other hand, TVA which celebrates its 25th anniversary this year has prepared a kit containing thousands of words of mimeographed material which it is issuing, and I have a copy, telling the world how superior TVA is to private power. This, of course, is not "lobbying"! What then is it? The TVA material contains no reference, although it is issued currently, to the Davis Bill (HR 4266) which is one of the most amazing propositions before Congress because it, in effect, eliminates the Government of the United States from a public power, tax free business, which is owned by the government and has been financed out of the taxpayers' money.

The purpose of the Davis Bill is to authorize TVA to sell revenue bonds to the public independently of the government. The House Bill permits unlimited expansion of TVA, without regard to geographic limitations. The law establishing the TVA requires it to repay in 40 years, all appropriated money in power facilities, amounting to more than $1,000,000,000 of which TVA has already repaid more than $200,000,000. Under the Davis Bill it would not be required to make such payments, but would substitute a semi-annual payment on appropriation investments, which could be postponed for two years. The Davis Bill makes no provisions for taxation.

It is interesting that whereas TVA may send its kit of releases, amounting, I should guess, to 25,000 or 30,000 words, without Senator Kefauver demanding censorship of any kind, private power companies are being subjected to censorship in the vicious form of an Internal Revenue Service order, never authorized by Congress and certainly class legislation because it applies to no other group in the United States.

According to Senator Kefauver's circular, "millions of dollars" are involved in this kind of advertising, which then will be lost to newspapers and magazines. It would be interesting to know what other forms of censorship the Internal Revenue Service undertakes masquerading as income tax directives.

Kremlin Hi-Fi

Kremlin Seeks No Real Understanding With West

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—What are the men in the Kremlin afraid of? They talk glibly about wanting better understanding between the Soviet and the American peoples. But the jamming of broadcasts of news from the United States into the countries behind the Iron Curtain continues with renewed intensity.

It is reliably estimated that, out of the several billions in its propaganda budget, the Soviet government is spending $100,000,000 a year just to jam radio broadcasts from stations in the free world to Russia and the captive countries. This is about the same amount that Congress appropriates for the entire program of information dissemination through radio, movies and books by the U. S. Information Agency.

The number of persons inside Russia who understand English is limited, so the broadcasts by the "Voice of America" when made in English are not interfered with—besides, the Moscow authorities like to transcribe for themselves what is being said. The broadcasts in the Russian language, however, and in all Slavic languages sent from stations in Europe both by the United States and her allies are always jammed. This means that electronic devices are used in various places to interfere with transmission.

The authorities also censor every newspaper and magazine published in the Soviet Union, and instructions are regularly issued banning the publication of certain kinds of information.

Throughout the Soviet Union, the radio is used 24 hours a day, with considerable repetition and persistence, to explain the government's point of view to the people.

The apologists for the Soviet Union claim they practice "democracy." They use the phrase "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics" and often refer to "freedom" but, curiously enough, the men in command are afraid to let the Soviet people get both sides of public questions. The people are told that the government has made up its mind as to what is right and proper for them to know, and anyone who differs is suspected of treason.

While the existence of this sort of intimidation is well known outside the Soviet Union, there is no clear explanation as to why the Kremlin is afraid to let the truth come in. No such timidity is shown with respect to the admission of musical groups or ballets or works of art, and there are even token examples of government tolerance of a few Christian churches.

What is behind the fear that causes the Soviet authorities to spend so much time and money jamming the "Voice of America" broadcasts in the Russian and Slavic languages? There was a time when the Communists said they were proud to have the Russian language extolled outside the Soviet Union. Can it be that the Communists really fear the effects on the people of their own

It's eight hundred feet of artistic brushing against the grain. Murals started in San Francisco when a neat landlady hung a lumberyard calendar on the bottom of a Murphy bed.

De Gaulle More Liberal Than Most Frenchmen And Americans Realize

By Drew Pearson

even against Communist countrymen.

In Churchill's Hair

Those who knew him in World War II found him to be temperamental, conceited, strong-willed, but frequently able to put his finger on what was wrong with Allied policy. In the summer of 1943 he wrote a letter to the British and American governments comparing Allied strategy to the beating of a drum.

"No one man is beating the drum," he wrote, "but a host of beetles are bouncing up and down on it and they think they are beating it."

A lot of people at the time thought he was right.

Even during the war De Gaulle had ideas about autonomy for the Near East and North Africa, and had a stormy session with Churchill over Egypt and Syria. Critical of British military leadership, De Gaulle offered to take over the entire Allied command in North Africa. Churchill turned him down.

During the war the French worshipped De Gaulle. He had become a symbol of freedom. To many he is still that symbol. Eden recognized this fact in the summer of 1943 when Churchill wanted to fire De Gaulle. Eden argued that he had become such a symbol that the British could not tear down the man they had built up.

Instead Churchill called a press conference in which he blasted De Gaulle as a latent fascist, accused him of stirring up the French and Arabs in Syria against the British, and claimed De Gaulle leaned toward French-Russian control of Europe. Actually De Gaulle has proved himself strongly anti-Russian and anti-Communist.

FDR & De Gaulle

It was FDR, however, who ridiculed De Gaulle perhaps more than Churchill. He delighted in telling the story of how he and Churchill tried to get De Gaulle and General Giraud, the Vichy commander at Casablanca, together. The incident is important, first, because it showed De Gaulle's unwillingness to compromise with Vichy, which many French felt had sold France down the river; second, because it was the beginning of American coolness toward De Gaulle.

Here is the incident as FDR used to tell it:

"We made numerous overtures to both sides with no success," explained FDR. "Giraud was willing, but De Gaulle turned us down flat. Finally, in desperation, I suggested to Winston Churchill:

"Let's have a shotgun wedding."

Churchill got a big laugh out of this. Roosevelt went on to explain that he promised to produce the bride — Giraud — if Churchill would provide the groom — De Gaulle. Churchill said he would carry out his end.

"Finally came the day of the wedding. We had the church, the padre (FDR pointed to himself), the bride and the gun. But the groom failed to show up. When asked what the trouble was, the Prime Minister shook his head sadly. De Gaulle, he said, had changed his mind.

"The situation looked pretty hopeless," Roosevelt continued, "but then I had a bright idea. 'Who pays De Gaulle?' he asked Churchill.

The Prime Minister replied: 'I do. I say, I hadn't thought about that. General De Gaulle is being financed by the British government. I believe you have something.'

So Churchill put the matter up cold turkey to De Gaulle, the President suggesting that he tell the general "No come, no pay."

"Believe it or not," added the President, "De Gaulle showed up in Casablanca within the next 24 hours."

However, the wedding was never consummated; De Gaulle was too stubborn. FDR said that De Gaulle was constantly striking dramatic attitudes.

"What France needs is a great soul in this hour of peril," he said one day. "I am that soul."

"In the next breath De Gaulle got on the subject of Jeanne d'Arc, who, he said, had come out of the skies to liberate the French in another period.

"I am the Jeanne d'Arc of this area," the general proclaimed.

However, Roosevelt also paid tribute to De Gaulle as being passionately dedicated to the liberation of France, and being unable to rest until the French people were relieved of the Nazi yoke.

That is the background of the man to whom more and more Frenchmen are turning in their present crisis, a man whom the United States may have to get along with whether we like him or not.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Never, never clean a desk . . . Desks reveal character. As I have none, my desk is a mess. It looks as though a group of drunken mice had spent the winter in it. The mice, obviously, are not choosy. I designed this desk in a fit of genius a year ago. It consists of two inches of plywood jammed against the windows. A half moon on both ends fits me and almost fits my secretary.

There are two typewriters back to back with a red telephone between them. Mrs. Walter's side is always neat. She thinks that this irritates me because my side is piled with old papers and last Tuesday's tea bags. I have news for her. It does.

This afternoon, I cleaned the desk. I mean cleaned it. Here are some of the items which were stirred to the surface:

A letter which begins: "Dear Jim: I've been saving this clipping for some time . . ." A copy of The Lutheran Witness. A note from Peter J. Gannon, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation of New Jersey. An idea for a magazine article from Renee Francine.

Three clippings of columns sent by my father with the notation: "Read this—great!" Two were written by Mr. Considine, one by Mr. Sobel. A book entitled "Il Giorno in cui Cristo Morì" from Rome. One entitled "Der Tag da Christus Starb" from Hamburg. A reminder from Harriet Pilpel, my lawyer, to please follow the American custom of paying bills.

A statement from The Bright Acre explaining that the Italian fountain I want for the front lawn — with cherub — comes to $195. A certificate from Commissioner Joseph McLean appointing me harbor master. A four-inch copper medallion of Abraham Lincoln.

One exhausted check book. (We looked everywhere for this one in March). A bill from McCue's Dairy for $18.46. A note on a story about a 3-year-old girl seeing her baby cousin undressed for the first time and bursting into tears. "I'm so plain," she wailed, "and he's so fancy."

A medal from a reader for a little grandchild-to-be. "A do-it-yourself kit for the boat. A Catholic Digest of June 1955. A note from Gordon Nease, the diplomat of law enforcement officers. A letter from Albert Landau of Yeshiva University. A bill from Clarence Carlson for fixing a pole in the river.

A reminder to write an outline of a play for the Lunts to be called Second Honeymoon. The Diary of Robert A. Lewis. An envelope marked Last Will and Testament of Jim Bishop. A copy of a superseding indictment against Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. A bill for flagstones for the back yard from Hagerman Lumber Company.

A bill from Better Housekeeping Shop in Red Bank for fixing the cellar freezer. One from the butcher for putting meat in said freezer. A note from me to the grocer which says, "What do you mean, 70 cents for two tomatoes?" He told me what he meant, so I paid it. A note from Alan Phillips, a writer from Quebec. It is postmarked June 14, 1957.

One busted box of rubber bands. Four paper clips straightened out. A green scapular. An empty bottle of Skip ink. A pair of sun glasses from 1956. A table of river tides for 1955. Two clippings from Romeike. A blotter from Theodore Your Florist. Two packages of Sano, King Size.

A letter opener in a leather scabbard. An unperfumed letter from a lady. A history of the Twin Lights written by Fletcher Pratt. The log of a flight in a B-47 from California to Portsmouth, New Hampshire. An outline of a TV program to be called THE DAY THAT . . . A credit card from the Hilton Hotel.

A report card for Gayle. Loose leaves for a scrapbook. A tin of nickels for playing poker. A copy of Publishers Weekly. A note from Ed Kuhn, editor of McGraw-Hill, about a book called "Go With God." A calling card marked "Sherman Billingsley Private Rooms Stork Club."

A ball point pen marked "U. S. Senate." A bill from Zobel's Boat Yard for waving to us as we sailed by. A note from Attorney Maurice Greenbaum reminding me of an American custom of paying bills promptly. A thank you note from Tracy Barrett. A column idea from Cy and Art's store to do a column about Cy and Art's store.

One railroad ticket from New York to Washington. Punched.

You're Telling Me

By William Ritt

In an election for Democratic committeeman of an Indianapolis precinct neither of the two candidates got a single vote. Up to press time we hadn't heard of anyone demanding a recount.

A 121-year-old Yugoslav farmer says he's been smoking for 111 years. Appears to be in put-fest shape, too.

The ostrich, declares a nature item, can often attain speeds up to 60 miles an hour. You would, too, if you had to cross the burning sands of the desert in your bare feet!

A Waitress' Cold, And Walking As A Health Aid

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

An Elkhart, Ind., waitress takes me to task for my article on how food handlers pass along colds when they sneeze or cough on food. "I am subject to colds but management frowns on taking off too much time. I often have felt ashamed handling people's food and blowing my nose in between customers, with no chance to wash my hands. But what can we do when the manager says, 'So and so works and she's as sick as you are!'"

There is only one answer. Customers should walk out of a restaurant when a waitress with a cold starts to serve them. Otherwise you may get one, too.

A Columbia, S. C., reader wants me to tell people to walk, walk, walk, and get rid of their ailments. She claims "walking strengthens the nervous system, causes the blood to circulate, and gets rid of constipation. One feels better, looks better, and the mind is clearer."

Sooner or later, most people find an activity that meets their needs and improves their feeling of well-being. Walk if you can and if you like doing it but don't expect it to solve all life's problems.

A Kansas City man may have found it so, however. He writes: "A 2 mile walk every day is better for a person than vitamin pills. When I got married 10 years ago I was puny and carried pills in every pocket. One day, while fishing in the Ozarks, I ran out of bait and put one of my vitamin tablets on the hook. I didn't get a single nibble all afternoon and decided the fish were smarter than I so I threw away my vitamins and started walking. I feel great. I'm my wife's fourth husband and there's not a chance of her having a fifth."

They say the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Much of this man's physical improvement may be due to his wife's culinary ability.

It is doubtful whether Queen Elizabeth II would be this enthusiastic about walking. A recent article on the English monarch mentioned how much standing and walking she has to do. This means she must have foot comfort. She wears specially balanced shoes that contain felt and sponge rubber linings. If stair-climbing is required she resorts to flat heels.

Try And Stop Me

Despite the fact that men's heads come in all sizes, their hats, for many years at least, did not. One ingenious hatter finally came up with an idea that soon became the accepted practice: he put a drawing inside the hat that enabled the wearer to adjust it to the precise circumference of his cranium. Then the string was tied into a bow-knot.

Although hats have been coming now in assorted sizes for fifty years and more, and the drawing inside has long since been abandoned, hatmakers have clung for some unknown reason to the bow-knot. You'll still find one, utterly useless, inside every man's hat.

Martin Gabel's wife recently

sashayed into his study decked out in one of those new chemise atrocities. "How do I look?" she demanded.

"First tell me," he countered, "who you are."

Mineral County Fair Scheduled August 11-16

Chairman Urges More Exhibits

KEYSER—Open class exhibits will be a feature of the Mineral County Fair this year, at Fort Ashby, according to Howard Bennett, fair chairman. He has urged county citizens to begin preparing now for exhibits at the fair, to be held August 11-16, at the Fort Ashby fairgrounds. Farm Women's Club exhibits will also be featured at the fair.

Open class exhibits will include all types of hand work, garden products, baked goods, canned goods, flower arrangements etc. No article will be shown which has been exhibited at the fair in the past.

Mr. Bennett said yesterday that the exhibits committee feels that the people of this area are talented in the classes mentioned, and they should make a special effort to show their work at the fair.

The committee in charge of open-class and Farm Women's Club exhibits includes Mrs. William Rosskamp, and Mrs. Eugene Shipman, Fort Ashby; Mrs. Arnold Lyon, Burlington, and Mrs. June Veach, Mineral County home demonstration agent.

Blue Angel Corps Sponsors Queen Contest

WESTERNPORT — Nine young ladies have entered the contest for the selection of a queen to reign over the Anniversary Week celebration (June 22-28) of the Blue Angels Drum Corps, of Victory Post 155, American Legion.

They include Judith Lupton, Florence Tinsley, Rebecca Metcalfe, Polly Dadds, Mary Ellen Bissett and Sandra Hill.

In the Little Queen contest, eight have been entered. They are Carol Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckman; Debra Dick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dick; Ricky Metcalfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Metcalfe; Susan Fazenbaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fazenbaker; Kathy Metz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Metz Jr.; Peggy Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Shaw; Lola Francis, daughter of Mrs. Frank Francis, and Diana Grove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grove.

A meeting of the committee to make arrangements for an "Old Fashioned Day" parade and sale during the week, and the float committee, will be held at the home of Victory Post 155, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Members of the float committee include Thomas Donnelly, chairman, Fred McKenzie, Vincent Laffey and James Wilkinson. The Old Fashioned committee is composed of the same members, with Laffey as chairman.

Several persons have indicated they will have entries in the float parade, and others who are interested should contact the committee.

The queen's committee is comprised of Mrs. Eleanor Laffey, chairman, Miss Sally Noonan and Mrs. Marian Wilkinson.

The program committee includes Fred McKenzie, chairman, Mrs. Vivian McKenzie, Mrs. Virgil Raines and James Willis.

Benefit Planned

FROSTBURG — The Golden Ray Sunday School Class of Salem United Church of Christ will hold a spaghetti supper Thursday from 5 to 7 p. m. for members of the congregation and their friends in the social room of the church.

Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a water fountain for the social room.

DAVID W. NYIEN

Chinese-Born Missionary Visits Area

FROSTBURG — David W. Nyien, Chinese born missionary to Malaya, will be guest speaker at the various Assembly of God churches in this area during the week of May 25—June 1.

Mr. Nyien will be telling of the progress of Assemblies of God missions in Malaya from an Oriental's point of view.

Born in Shanghai, China, to Chinese parents, he was brought up in a strong Buddhist home. At the age of 12, he was converted through the ministry of an American missionary. For a time, he was employed in a Chinese government bank, and later he served as an officer in the Army of General Stilwell.

In 1943, Mr. Nyien came to the states and attended Central Bible Institute in Springfield, Mo. for three years and Southern California Bible College at Pasadena, Calif. for one year.

Since 1950, Mr. Nyien has been engaged in missionary work in Malaya, under the supervision of the foreign missions department of the Assemblies of God, with headquarters in Springfield, Mo. He was stationed at Kuala Lumpur, where he established and built a church, and opened a day school for underprivileged children. He also opened Sunday Schools in many villages in the area, and conducted evangelistic rallies in various parts of Malaya. Mr. Nyien has witnessed many conversions in Malaya.

Services in this area begin at 7:30 p. m. in the following churches: Sunday, May 25, 11 a. m.—South Cumberland Church; Sunday, May 25, 7:30 p. m.—Midlothian Church; Tuesday, May 27, 7:30 p. m.—Lonaconing Church; Wednesday, May 28, 7:30 p. m.—Chaneysville Church; Thursday, May 29, 7:30 p. m.—Green Spring Church; Friday, May 30, 7:30 p. m.—Cabins, W. Va., Church; Sunday, June 1, 11 a. m.—Frostburg Church, and Sunday, June 1, 7:30 p. m.—Keyser, W. Va., Church.

Piedmont High Plans Banquet

PIEDMONT — Dr. Lawrence Fanti, West View Street, will act as toastmaster at the annual banquet of Piedmont High School at the school auditorium Thursday, May 29, at 6:30 p. m.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Lois Bell, Mrs. Gladys Smith or Mrs. Delores Rooney, president of the group.

Following the dinner a dance will be held at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club near Burlington. Music will be provided by Peck Mills and his orchestra of Cumberland.

Non-members of the Alumni may purchase tickets from Mrs. Gladys Smith or Mrs. Eleanor Richards.

Group To Attend Convocation

LONACONING — Father Leslie E. Schwindt, vicar, and a large delegation from St. Peter's Episcopal Church, will attend the Episcopal meeting of the Convocation of Cumberland at St. James' Church, Westernport, today. The Lonaconing group, will leave here at 10:15 a. m.

New McCoolle Church Lists 60 Members

Charter Is Open Until June 30

MCCOOLE — The McCoolle Presbyterian Church was organized on Sunday, with 60 charter members. Charter membership rolls will be kept open through June 30, after which the list will be submitted to the Presbytery of Winchester.

Rev. Thomas Jackson, Berkeley Springs pastor, conducted the ordination service with the ritual of the laying on of hands and prayer. The prayer was offered by Elder Emeritus James B. Johnson of Keyser, who has been an elder since 1912 and who has served as a deacon 1905 to 1912.

The covenant of membership was led by Elder Edwin F. Baldwin of the Keyser Church, who also served as clerk of the commission on organization. Mrs. Foster Harrison read the membership list.

Elder Charles Moon of Keyser, presented copies of the book of church government on behalf of the Keyser Church session to each of the newly ordained officers. They are: Elders, John Bartik, Courtney Beckman and Elder Biser; deacons, James Roberts, Charles Llewellyn and Otto Lambert. Mr. Moon also read greetings from the Keyser Ministerium and from the Keyser Church Session. Mr. Jackson brought greetings from Berkeley Springs.

Rev. Robert Campbell preached the sermon and Rev. John E. MacLeod presided, received members and made the official declaration of organization.

Hyndman Area Phones Convert To Dial System

BEDFORD — Hyndman and Charlesville, Pa., converted to the dial system at 3:01 a. m. Monday.

William Hagstrom, Bedford district manager for the United Telephone Company, announced the cutover time yesterday.

He said that with the introduction of dial service, telephone users in the two communities can complete local calls without the aid of an operator.

Long distance, information, assistance and other special types of calls will continue to be handled by the Bedford telephone office.

Effective with the change to dial service all Hyndman and Charlesville telephone numbers will be changed. Supplemental directories listing the new metropolitan type (two letters—five digit) telephone numbers were distributed to telephone customers in the areas served.

Hagstrom said Hyndman has been assigned the name Victoria while Charlesville has been assigned Thornwall in the nationwide telephone numbering plan.

The plan, he said, has been designed to permit eventual customer dialing of telephone calls on a continent-wide basis.

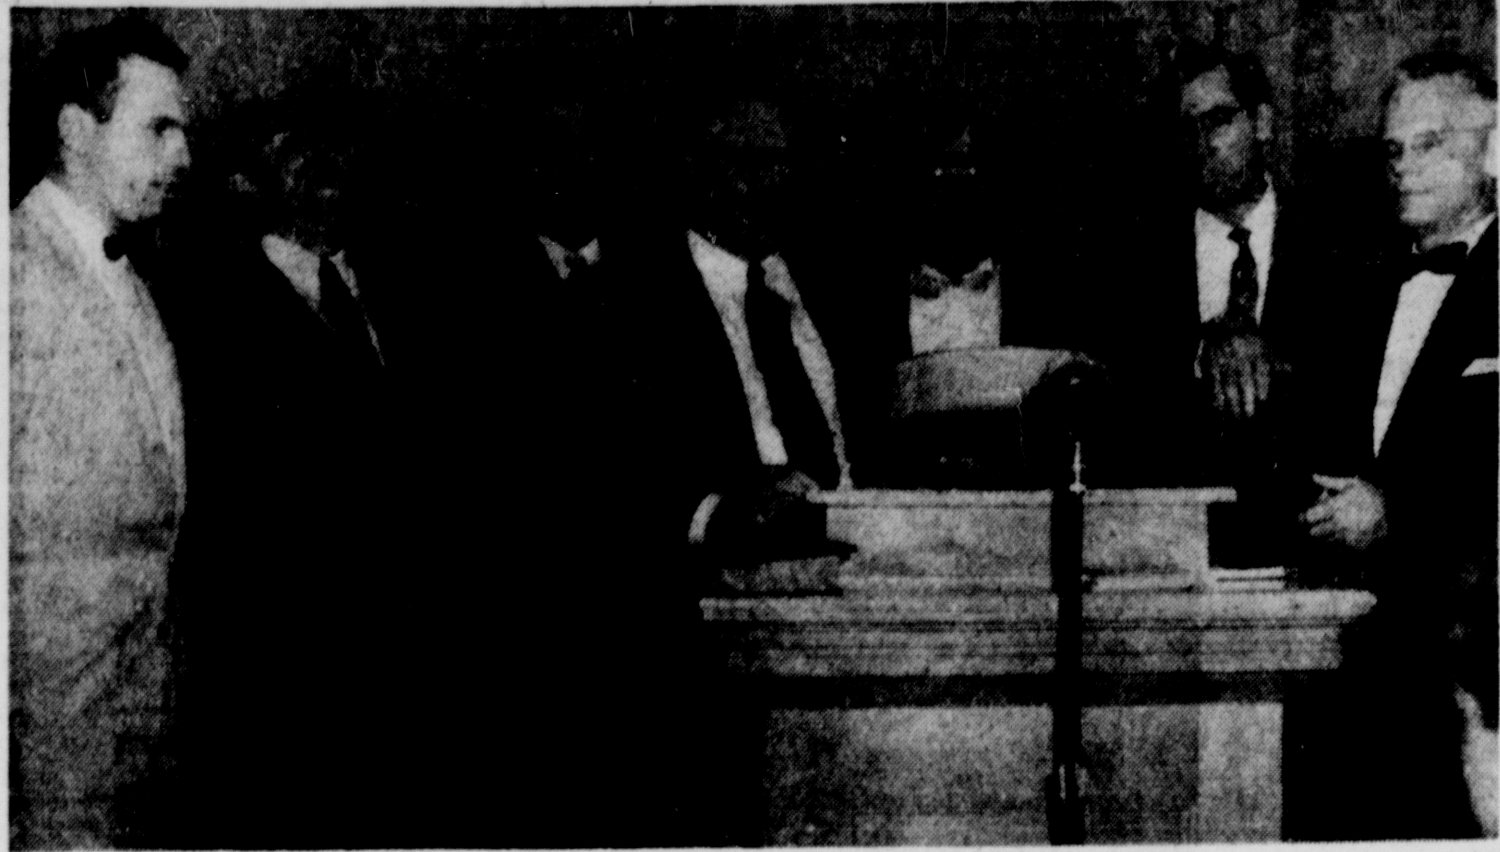

Pupils in the schools of the two communities have been familiarized with the use of dial through a number of demonstrations at schools.

Maplehurst Plans Dance May 24

FROSTBURG — Maplehurst Country Club announces plans for a dance and buffet lunch for its members on Saturday, May 24, at 10 p. m.

Music for dancing will be provided by the Don Wagner Trio. There will be a surprise show during intermission to be followed by the buffet lunch.

All members of the Maplehurst Club and their guests are invited to attend this event, to be held at the club house.

Pastors Burn Mortgage On Midlothian Church

Former pastors of Trinity Assembly of God Church, Midlothian are shown participating in the burning of the mortgage on the four-year-old church at a ceremony held recently. The building, valued at $70,000, was built by the men of the church under the supervision of Pastor Anderson Phillips, (extreme right), for $46,000. The last payment on the mortgage was made last month. Rev. Kelly Wigfield, Potomac District Assemblies of God superintendent (3rd from left) is holding the pan in which the mortgage is burning. Others are (left to right) Rev. James L. Tate, Rev. Edwin Zook, Rev. Edward Haupt, Rev. Albert Ark, and Rev. Paul Stevenson. There were many visitors present at the mortgage burning ceremony.

35 Graduate At Hyndman This Evening

HYNDMAN, Pa. — Thirty five seniors of Hyndman High School are scheduled to receive their diplomas at the school's annual commencement at 8 p. m. today in the school auditorium.

Paul N. Elbin, president of West Liberty (W. Va.) State College, will deliver the address to the graduating seniors, their parents and friends. "How To Keep Your Balance" will be the topic of his address.

Three student speakers also will be heard. John Baker, class president, will give the class history; Ethel Mae Shumaker will discuss "The New World Before Us"; and William Christner will speak on "The Most Valuable Thing A Man Can Spend."

James W. Owens of Hyndman, president of the Hyndman-Londonderry Joint Board of Education, will present the diplomas and Lloyd G. Keller, supervising principal, will present the awards.

W.Va. Poultry Meet Opens On July 30

MORGANTOWN — The sixteenth annual West Virginia poultry convention and festival will be held at Moorefield, Hardy County, July 30-August 1, according to Harold M. Hyre, associate poultry husbandman at West Virginia University, who heads the publicity committee for the event.

W. D. Tuckwiller of Lewisburg, Greenbrier County, president of the West Virginia Poultry Association, said the convention is being held during the week of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Department's Poultry Festival.

Highlights of the three-day affair will include the annual business meeting of the Poultry Association on the afternoon of July 30; the beauty pageant and the crowning of a Poultry Queen and a Broiler King for 1958 on the evening of July 30; a parade of floats and bands on the evening of July 31 and, finally, a huge chicken barbecue will be held Friday evening, August 1, followed by the Poultry Queen's Ball.

The program committee, headed by Ted R. Hash, Extension poultryman at WVU, is working on the educational program for the convention, Hyre pointed out.

As in former years, competition for the Broiler crown is keen, with several counties participating and submitting records from their best growers.

"President Tuckwiller urges all poultrymen, as well as others, to set aside the dates of July 30-31 and August 1 to attend the convention and festival," Hyre said.

Rec Center Is Opened At Romney

ROMNEY — The Canteen, Romney's youth recreation center, has opened with 150 purchasing membership cards.

The center located in the former quarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is on the second floor of a building which houses a business operated by Guy Raines. Haines has donated the use of the rooms to the Canteen, rent free.

The center is equipped with amusement machines, ping pong tables, television, games equipment, juke box and a snack bar. A dance floor is also part of the set up.

Sgt. W. Frank Bowley, commander of the local West Virginia State Police detachment, who did the spade work in organizing the center, said the conduct of those attending the opening night was "excellent," and no disturbance of any kind was in evidence.

The Canteen was originally sponsored by the Adult Class of Romney Methodist Church, and Sgt. Bowley was appointed organizer by that group.

Keyser Guard Will Camp At Breckinridge

Unit To Leave By Convoy June 13

KEYSER — The Keyser National Guard, Battery C, 201st Armored Field Artillery will travel to the field training site at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., by military convoy in June. The announcement was made by Capt. Henry E. Wilt, commanding officer of the local unit.

The convoy will leave Keyser on Friday, June 13 at 8 a. m. DST, and will consist of nine vehicles. An advance detachment will leave prior to the main body, to carry camp equipment and to prepare the troop living area at the camp. The advance party will leave headquarters on Patrick Street on Tuesday, June 10 at 6 a. m. DST.

All units of the 201st Armored Field Artillery will bivouac at State Park, Parkersburg, Friday night. At completion of the second day's motor advance, the battalion will bivouac at Dillsboro, Ind., and the last day's travel will find all units at Camp Breckinridge on Sunday. A total of 17 days summer camp will be scheduled instead of the regular 15 to accommodate the motor advance to and from camp.

Captain Wilt has announced the special field training appointments for summer camp, as follows: 1st Lt. Phillip L. Leatherman, claims officer; 2nd Lt. Jack R. Treutle, postal officer; 2nd Lt. Charles M. Satterfield, safety officer; 2nd Lt. Curtis M. Rotruck, athletics and recreation officer; Pfc. Harold L. Hoopengartner, unit fire marshal, and Sgt. Lester R. Heavner, safety NCO.

Piedmont Airs Wrong-Size Fire Hydrants

Chief Expects New Truck Saturday

PIEDMONT—Raymond Lee, chief of Tri-Towns Fire Company 1, last night informed the Mayor and Council that 16 fire hydrants do not fit hose equipment. In trying out new hose, he said, firemen discovered the threads were for eight-inch hose.

Mayor Rodney Baker and Commissioners decided to take action to reduce the threads on the hydrants, although they could be partially used with the pumper. Lee also reported that the town's fire siren "is just about gone." He quoted prices ranging from $500 to $900 for a new device.

Mayor Baker remarked it is essential that a new siren be purchased. Since the town received valves at the intersection of Child's Avenue and Second Street and Ashfield and Third Streets, he added, water pressure has improved.

The new LaFrance fire truck is expected to arrive here Saturday, Lee stated. A representative will accompany the truck to look over the fire company's present vehicle and decide what parts are needed for repairs. There will be no charge for his labor.

A letter from the Housing Finance Agency of Federal Government Region 2 of Philadelphia, and application forms for a loan, was read by Mayor Baker. The loan would be for a preliminary survey so that the town could take advantage of the sewage treatment offered by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Edward Kid, Baltimore, and William H. Marean, Cumberland, of the Robert T. Regeister Engineering Firm of Baltimore, recently told council that such a survey would cost between $1,500 and $2,000. There would be no interest on the loan and it would not have to be repaid until construction started.

Council authorized Ormond Ledlow, town clerk, to contact Marean for assistance in filling out the forms. James Bissett, street commissioner, said River Road between Jones and Orchard Streets should be repaired and suggested that it be made a one way street. Work to improve the area was ordered, but the one way issue was deferred.

Council ordered that a marker be placed at the corner of Ashfield Street and Kalbaugh Alley, pointing out that the alley is one way.

The Piedmont swimming pool will officially open May 30. The hours will be from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m. continuously, except when it is considered too cold to swim and when the pool is drained for cleaning.

Francis Albanese, pool manager, and other employees met with Mayor Baker and Council for instructions relative to their duties.

Albanese will be sworn in as a special police officer to maintain order at all times.

Rev. Taylor Heads Rotary At Frostburg

FROSTBURG—Rev. Paul V. Taylor assumed the presidency of the Frostburg Rotary Club this week at Zion United Church of Christ. He succeeds John Dunkle Jr. who has been transferred to New Jersey.

The invocation at the meeting was given by Howard F. Ward, Wayne Hill, principal of Beall High School and a member of the youth committee, introduced the two Beall High students who were chosen by their classmates as "Citizens of Tomorrow," and represented the local club at the district conference held recently at Bedford Springs.

Eugene Eagan related his experiences and the program for the boys at Bedford. Gene Sager, the other representative, sang three vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by his father, Charles I. Sager.

Guests present were Earl Chaney, Kenneth Beck, Ted Bell and John Liebaw of Cumberland; John Smith, Mt. Savage and Charles Daniels of Lonaconing.

The program next Monday evening will be in charge of H. Reford Aldridge.

Homemakers Club To Hear Reports

WESTERNPORT—Reports of the recent Allegany County Homemakers Clubs executive committee held in Cumberland will be given by Mrs. Frank Dayton, Westernport, reading chairman and Mrs. Ernest Wilson, president, of Westernport Homemakers at their monthly meeting Friday, May 23, at 7:30 p. m. at Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. William B. Smith, clothing chairman will give a report on the county meeting she attended in Cumberland.

Members of the local club who expect to attend the Rural Women's Short Course at the University of Maryland, College Park, June 16-21, may make reservations at the meeting.

The hostesses will be Mrs. George Angle, Mrs. Joseph Guy, Mrs. William Gardner and Mrs. Arthur Whitworth.

Frostburg Changes Signal Light

FROSTBURG—Chief of Police Lloyd Truly announced that the traffic lights at the Bowery and Grant Street intersection have been changed on an experimental basis for several days.

A walk light has been in effect for several years, the chief said, with the center of the three lights being red when the pedestrian walk light was on. No amber light was used.

The change, Chief Truly continued, has been to install amber reflectors in the middle of the bank of signal lights, giving a green, amber and red combination. The timing has also been changed to give more time to cars entering Main Street from Bowery and Grant streets.

Pedestrian traffic will move across streets when the red light shows. However, the chief said, caution will have to be used to watch cars which may be entering or leaving the streets having the green or "go" light.

The traffic signals at Water and Main streets will retain the walk lights, the chief said, but will be adjusted in the near future.

Memorial Day Program For Keyser Listed

KEYSER—William W. Schofield, captain in the U. S. Army Reserve, will deliver the annual Memorial Day address here Friday, May 30, according to L. C. Shuck, past quartermaster.

Adjutant of Nancy Hanks Post 3518 VFW, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the event. All civic, fraternal and military organizations are invited to participate in the program, which will begin with a parade starting at 10:15 a. m. (DST). The parade will form on the east side of Keyser High School and move down Main Street to Armstrong and then east to the Water Street bridge where it will disband and the marchers will be taken in cars to the cemetery.

Services at Queens Point Cemetery will commence at 11 a. m. with selections by the Keyser High School band. Raymond L. Murray, city councilman, will preside. Rev. John D. MacLeod, pastor of Keyser Presbyterian Church, will ask the invocation and Rev. Charles W. Paskel, pastor of First Methodist Church, will give the benediction.

Taps will be sounded by Clarence J. Clark, and Marshall E. Eilbeck will play the echo. The military salute will be rendered by firing squads from Keyser and McCoole VFW posts. The service is dedicated to all war dead and in honor of the Gold Star Mothers. In case of rain the service will be conducted in the KHS auditorium.

Myrtle Temple Will Attend District Meeting

MIDLAND—A chartered bus for members of Myrtle Temple No. 2 Pythian Sisters, will leave Midland at the Honor Roll, today, at 11:15 a. m. to attend the annual Pythian Sisters District Convention in Cumberland, at the Junior Order Hall on Polk Street. The bus will also stop at Johnson's Store in Gilmore, at National, Shaft, Powell's Lane, Grahams, the top of Grant Street; Frostburg, and at Clarysville, to pick up area members.

Piedmont PTA Has Election

PIEDMONT—Mrs. Raymond Stevenson, Murphy Street, was reelected president of the Piedmont Parent-Teacher Association at the last meeting of the year held at the high school recently.

Other officers chosen are Mrs. Robert Kilroy, first vice president; Mrs. Emmett Murray, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Gates, secretary and Mrs. Harold Robinson, treasurer.

The group complimented Principal Vernon A. Stagers who was recently elected president of the West Virginia Education Association.

OES Officers Entertained

Expect 50,000 At Strawberry Festival

17th Annual Fete Opens May 29

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (AP)—Plans have been completed for the 17th annual renewal of the Central West Virginia Strawberry Festival to take place here May 29-30.

Robert N. Tetrick, festival director, made the announcement Tuesday.

The festival will open with the crowning of Queen Barbara XVII by Gov. Underwood. She is Miss Barbara Sue Bogart, 18, of Buckhannon, the choice of the judges from among 45 girls who competed for the title. They represented the 10 central West Virginia counties which sponsor the festival.

That evening, a Fireman's Parade will be held in the downtown area, followed by a square dance in the National Guard Armory.

On May 30, a Memorial Day program will precede the Grand Feature Parade. The festival will close with a variety show and the Queen's Ball.

The Strawberry Festival was started in 1936 when Dr. J. E. Judson, then head of the biology department at Wesleyan College, reported that he had discovered the local climate and soil were ideal for strawberry growing. Accordingly, he suggested the festival to stimulate the interest of farmers in the crop.

The festival has been held ever since, except during World War II. Tetrick said 50,000 visitors are expected to attend this year.

Mens Golf Group At Mapelhurst Note Improvements

The Men's Golf Association of Mapelhurst Country Club is engaged in various improvement projects around the clubhouse and golf course. Work has been started on landscaping and improving the embankment between the parking lot and the clubhouse with hundreds of evergreens being planted around the course. Plans to tie-in the new reservoir with the city's water system are currently being made.

The group, in cooperation with Joseph Reposeky, pro, will arrange matches with various other clubs, provide for tournaments and conduct the usual Wednesday evening matches later in the season.

Three Candidates File At Romney

World University Service Drive Underway At FSTC

FROSTBURG—The annual fund-raising drive for the World University Service is now being conducted by the International Relations Club of Frostburg State Teachers College. A booth will be opened at 9:30 a. m. Thursday at Compton Hall auditorium, one half hour before the Senior Assembly.

In the past 15 years, generations of American college students have raised and contributed more than five and one half million by The United States National dollars to World University Serv. Student Association, while on ice. Their generosity has enabled others the Newman Clubs con- this organization to feed and duct the campaign.

Each organization on the cam- pus make a contribution to the World University Service and at for many more; buy textbooks and lab equipment for shattered universities; send drugs, medi- cines, and X-ray equipment to disease-ridden educational institu- tions.

World University Service in the United States is the American branch of an international volun- tary agency which works in more than 30 countries. World Uni- versity Service supporters are active on 700 American college, univer- sity, and preparatory school cam- pus. On some campuses the fund-raising drive is sponsored Coherly of here.

Mt. Savage Beats Allegany, 7-3, Captures League Lead

Beall Drops 2-0 Decision To Fort Hill

Fleagle Masters Campers; Jones Beats Richards

Fort Hill	8	3	.800
Allegany	7	2	.778
Beall	6	3	.667
LaSalle	4	5	.444

Flintstone	0	11	.000

Mt. Savage High School moved into first place in the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League yesterday by defeating Allegany High School's Campers at Mt. Savage by the score of 7-3.

The victory was the seventh straight for Coach Joe Carter's Indians and gave them a season record of nine wins and two defeats.

Wayne Fleagle, Mt. Savage southpaw ace, outpitched John Mills, Jack Cranor and Bill Hook to notch his fifth win of the campaign against two setbacks and made his 4-year record in the league 14 wins and 14 losses. Fleagle yielded only five hits, including Richard Powell's homer in the third with a teammate aboard.

Richard Lybarger belted a roundtripper for the Indians in the sixth inning.

Mills, who started on the mound for Allegany, lasted only 1½ innings, and suffered his first reverse of the season after winning his first two starts. Cranor, his successor, wild pitched home a pair of runs, walked the only batter he faced and was yanked in favor of Hook, who finished on the mound for the Campers.

Bill Burkett, Mt. Savage left fielder, featured afield with two nice leaping catches of drives near the fence.

Jones Beats Richards

Russell Jones pitched Fort Hill to a 2-0 decision over Beall High School, scoring over Dave Richards in a neat pitching duel at Fort Hill Field.

The victory put the Sentinels in second place, one-half game off the pace.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team won the game in the fourth inning when Jimmy Hammond singled with the bases loaded to drive home the only runs of the game. Wolford had walked, Weaver singled and Lewis beat out a bunt to load the hassocks before Hammond connected.

Jones yielded five hits and struck out five while Richards gave up six hits and fanned ten. The win was the fifth against one loss for Jones. Richards suffered his second defeat against five victories. Richards and Jones have hooked up four times in two seasons and the latter has emerged the victor every time.

Beall loaded the bases with two out in the first and third innings but was unable to score on Jones, who forced McGowan to ground out and fly out.

Rice Whiffs 15

LaSalle High's Explorers scored 11 runs in the third inning and easily defeated Flintstone High School at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 13-4. The loss was the eleventh in a row for the winless Aggies.

Charles Rice, sophomore, making his first start for LaSalle, pitched a 4-hitter and struck out 15 Flintstone batsmen.

The Explorers collected 18 hits, including a pair of triples by Richard Garlitz in the big third frame.

Valley Wins In Eighth

Valley High School exploded for five runs in the eighth frame to beat Bruce High School in an extra inning battle at Westernport by the score of 9-4.

Durrelle Favored In Bout Tonight With Ballarin

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durrelle, Canadian and British Empire light heavyweight champion, Tuesday was a 2-1 favorite to beat France's Germain Ballarin in a 10-round bout at the Montreal Forum Wednesday night.

The fight will be telecast (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) coast to coast in the United States over the regular Wednesday night network.

It will be the second "live" boxing show to be beamed into the United States from another country. The first was lightweight champion Joe Brown's one-round conquest of Cuba's Orlando Echevarria in Havana, Feb. 26.

This is a comeback effort for the husky, 28-year old Durrelle. The fighting fisherman from Baie Ste. Ann., N. B., was stopped in the seventh round by Tony Anthony in New York last March 14.

Ballarin, who sports a flourishing mustache, is making his second campaign in North America. He came to the United States a year ago and split in two bouts. He defeated Bob Provizzi and lost to middleweight contender Rory Calhoun.

The "horns" of the huge South American horned frog are actually the upper eyelids. They are flexible.

Cards Trade Alvin Dark To Chicago

St. Louis Obtains Hurler Jim Brosnan

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The sixth-place but rising St. Louis Cardinals reinforced their pitching staff Tuesday by acquiring right-handed hurler Jim Brosnan from the Chicago Cubs in return for veteran shortstop Al Dark.

No money changed hands, the Cards front office reported.

The Red Birds said they intend to insert the 28-year-old Brosnan, 3-4, into their pitching rotation immediately. Lindy McDaniel and Vinegar Bend Mizell, two other starters, have had their troubles lately.

The trade was the first major deal engineered by freshman General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals. Devine took over the reins from Frank Lane, now G.M. Cleveland.

The deal had been a conversation piece between Card and Cards officials for six weeks.

The 35-year-old Dark, in his 13th season as a big leaguer, has been in and out of the Cardinals lineup this season. Just before the trade Manager Fred Hutchinson had him on the bench in favor of bonus baby Dick Schofield, who covers more ground and has a stronger throwing arm.

Dark's last four times at bat were in pinch-hitting roles and he delivered base hits each time to raise his average to .297 for the young season.

In Pittsburgh where the Cubs opened a two-game series with the Pirates, Chicago Vice President John Holland said Dark will play at third base. He added:

"We felt that Alvin could give us the experience on the infield that we need."

Brosnan left Pittsburgh by plane shortly after the trade was announced to join the Cardinals in Philadelphia where they take on the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ron Delany Beats All-Star Field

DUBLIN, May 20 (INS)—Ireland's Ron Delany beat an all-star field of milers today when he won an invitation mile race by five yards at Santry Stadium in 4:07.5 despite wintry weather conditions.

The Villanova student topped an eight-man field that included British aces Derek Ibbotson, Brian Hewson and Gordon Pirie.

Delany said he found the track in wonderful condition despite the weather and added that he was flying back to the United States early Wednesday.

Franchise Loss Costly

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Backers of Bismark-Mandan's entry in the pro baseball Northern League faced the discouraging task of returning $16,000 worth of tickets before a single game was played.

The league had to cancel the tentative franchise when another club dropped out, creating an unworkable odd-number membership.

Pirates Break Losing Streak, Belt Chicago

Friend Racks Up 6th Triumph, 12-3

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates blasted out of a five-game losing streak Tuesday night with a flurry of long hits, posting a 12-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Pitcher Bob Friend, who held the Cubs scoreless until the seventh, weathered a brief ninth inning rally, to record his sixth victory against two setbacks.

Ineffective pitching was responsible for the Cubs' 11th defeat in their last 13 contests as was Pittsburgh's resurgence at the plate.

Pirate hitters rapped six hurlers for 13 hits, including homers by Bill Virdon and Frank Thomas. Hank Foiles and Bill Mazeroski each chipped in with a pair of doubles. Dick Groat also slapped a two-bagger.

Thomas' homer was his 13th in the hot National League home run derby. Virdon's was his first of the year.

Dick Drott, who absorbed his first defeat in two decisions, could not find the plate, giving up six runs on five walks, a wild pitch and only one hit before being relieved with none out in the second by southpaw Ed Mayer.

Hemmis Posts 7th Win In Donora Hill Climb

Holds Slight Lead In National Race; Mitzell Is Victor

Joseph W. Hemmis, of Cumberland, and Howard Mitzell, York, Pa., veteran, who are running 1-2 in the national point scoring race for 1957-58, shared honors in a motorcycle hill-climbing program held Sunday at Donora, Pa.

Mitzell, national leader in 1956-57, captured the first professional event in 2.93 seconds with R. J. "Jackie" Neiland, Cleveland, Ohio, second (2.97); Hemmis, third (2.97) and Duane Neiland, Cleveland, fourth (2.98).

Hemmis equalled Mitzell's time in winning the second pro event in 2.93 seconds. The York slant rider came in second in 2.98 followed by "Jackie" Neiland (3.06) and Duane Neiland (3.27).

Eleven riders participated in the "A" events.

In ten events since the national championship climb last year in Muskegon, Mich., Hemmis has figured "in the money" every time with seven wins, one second and three thirds.

Hemmis won the national point scoring title two years ago and holds a slight lead over Mitzell this year.

The Cumberland rider expects to compete in the Youngstown Motorcycle Club's hill climb at East Palestine, Ohio, on Sunday.

Stakes Winners From 24 States

NEW YORK — While Kentucky annually produces the top thoroughbreds, a breakdown of 379 United States stakes winners of 1957 shows that the winners came from 24 states. Kentucky topped the list with 227. California was second with 44.

Other stakes producers by states were: Maryland 17, Virginia 16, Washington 13, Nebraska 9, New Jersey 8, Arizona 7, Oklahoma 5, Florida and Tennessee, 4 each; Colorado, New York and Rhode Island, 3 each; Alabama, Kansas, Oregon, New Mexico, Nevada and Michigan, 2 each, and Massachusetts, South Carolina, Texas and Wyoming, 1 each.

JOCKEYS IN DEADLOCK

HALLANDALE, Fla. — When Johnny Choquette rode two winners on closing day at Gulfstream Park it enabled him to tie Steve Brooks for riding honors at the meeting. Both had 28 firsts. Larry Gilligan was third with 24. Chester F. Bowles led the trainers at the meeting with 14 winners.

NEW YORK, May 20 (INS)—The toughest feat in all the world of sport is without doubt the winning of the National Open Golf Tournament.

It will be more difficult than ever this year because the field keeps getting better, and the finest golfers in the world will be shooting at the Southern Hills Country Club, Tulsa, June 12-14.

Purple Heart jumped off to a 30-point lead by winning the first three games on Monday night, 89-59, and this looms as a big handicap for the Eagles to overcome.

In 1955 Purple Heart Club won the first league title by beating the Cumberland K. of C. in the finals of the playoffs.

The course measures 6,907 yards. It has Bermuda grass fairways, fast greens and a heavy rough. It is not an impossible course, but no duffer is going to take it apart.

This is one golf tournament where prestige means more than cash, although we hasten to add the prestige can be converted quickly into coin of the realm.

The course measures 6,907 yards. It has Bermuda grass fairways, fast greens and a heavy rough. It is not an impossible course, but no duffer is going to take it apart.

This could be the last big chance for the veteran Sammy Snead. In a long and meritorious career, Snead has won virtually every tournament in the country except the open. In the process he has won enough cash to fill a bank vault and enough trophies to stack a museum. But the big one always has eluded him.

Snead's swing is the envy of all duffers and the delight of the professionals, who like to see him hit just as the ball players used to like to watch Babe Ruth swing.

Snead has won the PGA, the Masters and the British Open, so there is nothing wrong with his courage. But his putter sometimes betrays him in the clutch.

It may be now or never for him this time and he appears ready, as shown by his 264 for 72 holes at White Sulphur Springs—where he beat Gary Player of South Africa by sinking a three-foot putt in a playoff.

Snead had two great chances and missed both. Nineteen years ago he had the open all but sewed up when he took an outlandish eight on the final hole. He was one of the early finishers and was not aware that a five would have won the title for him.

Sam gambled on a birdie and proceeded to bounce from trap to trap and bunker to bunker like a rubber ball. If he had known how far he was in front, he would not have gambled and would have won. Sad to say, only a few days later, playing over the same course, he had an eagle three on that same hole where he took the death knell eight.

Just ten years ago he had only to sink a 30-inch putt to tie Lew Worsham in the Open but he blew that, too.

The Open is a nerve-racking test. Not only can one bad round ruin you, but one bad hole or even one bad putt can cost a championship.

CHRYSLER

58 Chrysler WINDSOR

4 Door Sedan
This car has been driven by one of the executives of the company and has very low mileage. We fully guarantee this car with new car title and warranty. The finish is a two tone green baked on enamel with a sport tone design. The gold-color interior of plastic and nylon will make you a proud owner. Equipped with power steering, push button controlled transmission, heater, defroster, windshield washer, backup lights, signal lights, air foam seats, white sidewall tires, plus the small Chrysler accessories. This car is powered with a V-8 290 H.P. engine. Very economical to operate. You will save hundreds of dollars on this special buy. Stop in for a demonstration and appraisal of your old car.

A LOCAL ONE OWNER GEM

1957 Mercury Monterey
What a beautiful car for the wise buyer that appreciates nothing but the best. A taste of luxury, beauty, styling, color and true precision. This sun gold and ivory sport 2 dr. is an actual 6,000 mile car. A roomy 6 passenger. Enclosed in wrap-around glass. Luxurious 3 tone black flower nylon and cool grey leather upholstery. Large deluxe radio, push button automatic trans., big air heater and defroster. Loads of other extras that should be demonstrated to really understand real value. All this along with a real powerhouse engine—Smooth as silk—would lead you to believe the car would be priced at $2895.00. To the first buyer in, we are selling this sweetheart for

If you want a better job, be on the job about your appearance—especially if you're past the forty mark.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Update Your Looks For A New Career

"Losing my job turned out to be one of the best things that ever happened to me," an attractive grandmother told me firmly, with a smile. "I felt that my age was against me in looking for a new position, and it was. But only because I was letting it show. I took a good look at myself and began to make changes."

The company she had worked for for years dissolved when the owner retired, and she found herself with experience and ability to recommend her, but not enough else, she felt, to appeal to an employer. But she found her way to a better new job where she keeps in lively step with much younger women in a short time. It was all done, she says, by resolving to lift herself out of a middle-aged rut and sticking to that good resolution. It came about through asking herself these questions:

1. Have I become too set in my ways about my looks? Yes, she had, she decided. She traded a hair style worn too long for a new one, sought advice about better care for a skin that was drying more than she realized and about using more makeup.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 20 (INS)—The question of how the man-in-space will meet his tax payments—a vexing problem that has kept the lights burning late at the Bureau of Internal Revenue—was solved last weekend when the Navy recovered a missile cone in mid-Atlantic, five hours after it was fired in Florida.

The recovered cone showed that it had a hide tough enough to protect its contents even though it had shot down into the mushy atmosphere of the earth at 9,000 m.p.h. It refused to become a cinder, and thus we can expect the future to bring similar bombardments of the earth from space, each April 15 and other tax-return dates.

The man-in-space still is a problem to the doctors, however, especially the American College of Cardiology, which is holding its seventh annual convention in St. Louis this week. As usual, the heart doctors are making news. If it isn't a serious investigation of how the giraffe's heart pumps its blood all the way up to the beast's brain, it's Dr. Paul Dudley White taking a whale's cardiogram by hovering over the monster in a helicopter and harpooning it with cables connected to the machine.

One of the featured scientific exhibits this week in St. Louis is labeled Physiological Measurements from Earth-Orbiting Satellites. Capt. Norman L. Barr, Naval Medical Research Institute, Bethesda, Md., is the skipper of this one.

The assorted U. S. and Soviet satellites which still have their battery juice are transmitting certain physiological information back to earth. It is picked up at various points in the world. The dope is rushed instantly to the National Naval Medical Center, studied, put on tape for future studies.

The Navy has completed plans for two-way conversations with the man-in-space, steady and constant though he will be traveling at perhaps 18,000 m.p.h. The condition of his ticker will be a matter of public record to people in Bethesda, Md., as he rockets 1,000 miles over the Indian Ocean.

Somehow, the giraffe and the harpooning Dr. White seemed simpler.

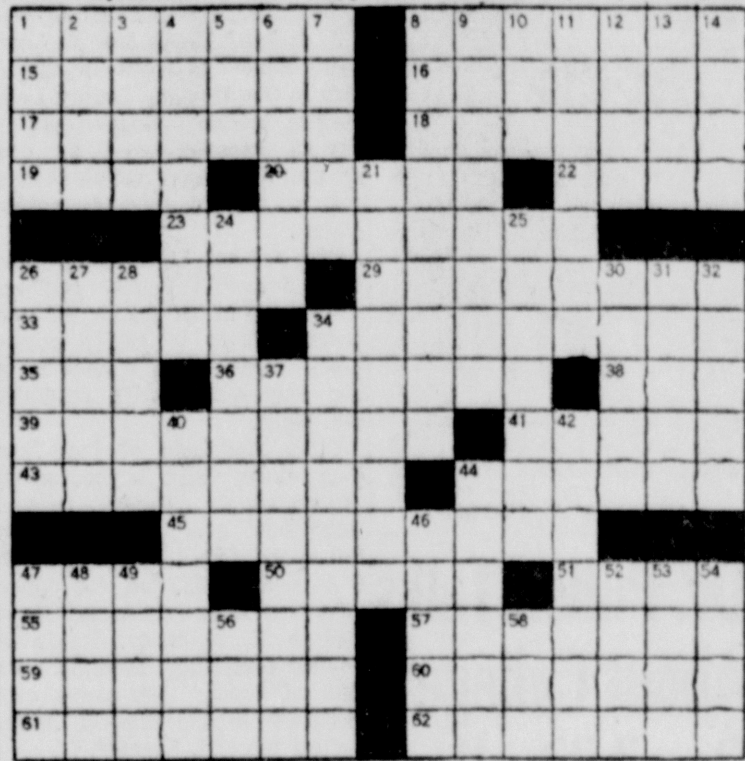

The American Bible Society continues to find new languages into which to translate the Good Book. The latest is Aztec of Guerrero (Mexico), Betsi (Cameroun), Benikid (Philippines) and Pocomchi (Guatemala). That brings it up to 271 languages and tongues.

The society, which is 141 years old and which has distributed 500,000,000 volumes of scriptures, springs from the Pennsylvania Bible Society, which is celebrating its 150th anniversary.

It, in turn, was inspired by Robert Aiken, of Philadelphia, who in 1782 published the first English-language Bible on this continent. Bible shipments from England had been cut off, of

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and aircraft were pacemakers Tuesday in a general stock market advance, the best since April 30.

Turnover swelled to 2,500,000 shares from Monday's 1,910,000, which was the smallest since early March.

Key stocks rose from fractions to around 2 or more points.

A three-week increase in steel industry and a further boost slated was ascribed by brokers as the main cause for the rise in steel shares. Youngstown Sheet was outstanding with a leap of 3 points to 84 1/2.

The aircraft-missiles shares strode ahead on a combination of bullish factors, including the tense international situation, prospects of labor peace and expectations of faster defense contracts.

The day started mildly enough with a slight rise but gathered steam gradually. Steels came to the forefront early in the session. Aircrafts joined them as leaders. The rest of the list joined in.

Coppers, rails, utilities, building materials, motors, some chemicals and a broad miscellany of selected issues hopped on the bandwagon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.30 to $168.60, its biggest jump since the April 30 rise of $1.90. The industrials were up $2.00, the rails $1.50 and the utilities 30 cents.

Of 1,170 issues traded, 692 rose and 224 fell. New highs for the year totaled 93 and new lows 8.

ROY W. EVES

Mayor Eves Is Candidate For Re-election

Will Seek Third Term In Top Post

Mayor Roy W. Eves filed yesterday as a candidate for reelection, subject to the June 3 municipal primary election.

He became the second candidate for the $3,600 a year position yesterday afternoon when he posted his $40 filing fee with City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

Only one other candidate, J. Edwin Keech, Virginia Avenue businessman, has filed for the post, but informed City Hall sources said at least one more candidate will file and set the stage for the mayoral primary contest.

Six candidates have filed for the four $1,800 a year council posts. They are Melvin G. Cline Sr., Lonnie I. Jackson, Finance Commissioner John J. Long, Cecil C. Clark, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz and Harold K. Ritter.

Mayor Eves was not immediately available for comment.

Seeks Third Term

He has served as chief executive of the city since 1952 and will be making his fourth try for the post.

The former B&O official is 72 and lives at 103 Washington Street with his wife, the former Clarabelle Plumly, of Chillicothe, Ohio. They have one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Eves.

Mayor Eves lost his first venture into politics in 1948 when he was defeated in the general municipal election by 149 votes to veteran Mayor Thomas S. Post after being top man in the mayoral primary.

He was first elected mayor in 1952 when he defeated William H. Buchholz by 519 votes.

Mayor Eves was reelected to a four-year term in 1952, defeating

Ridgeley High Graduation Set For May 27

Ridgeley High School will wind up its scholastic year with its 42nd annual commencement scheduled for 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 27, according to Melvin M. Heiskell, school principal. Forty-two seniors are scheduled to get their diplomas on that occasion.

End-of-school-year activities at Ridgeley High School began last Thursday with the 13th annual Achievement Day assembly. Awards presented by the principal, the athletic coach and the homeroom teachers included perfect and faithful attendance certificates, honor point certificates for extra curricular activities, athletic letters and certificates, typing awards, literary, yearbook and industrial arts awards and citations for school activities.

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet will be held in the school cafeteria at 6 p. m. Friday with Judge Ernest A. See of Keyser as the speaker for the occasion.

"Twilight Time" has been chosen as the theme of the prom which will be held in the gym beginning at 9 p. m. Friday.

Sunday at 8 p. m., Rev. George S. Widmyer, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will deliver the annual sermon to the graduates at the high school auditorium.

See Is Winner In County Race

Allegany County Republicans yesterday gave rousing votes of confidence to incumbent candidates headed by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Sen. Beall was given a vote of 6,107 as complete but unofficial results from 45 polling places in the county Republican primary election came in.

His opponent, Henry J. Laque Jr., received only 563 votes in the county primary.

See Defeats Hughes

State Senator Charles M. See defeated Del. George M. Hughes Jr., by a count of 3,721 to 3,442 to win the Republican nomination.

Incumbents were clear victors in the contest for six House of Delegate positions on the November general election, with Delegate Fred B. Driscoll in the top spot with 3,486 votes.

Other unofficial winners for the other positions were Del. Noel Speir Cook, Del. Lester B. Reed, Estel C. Kelley, Del. Thomas N. Berry and David J. Williams.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir won the Republican nomination when he defeated William E. Orr Jr., by a count of 3,849 to 3,126.

Incumbents Nominated

Incumbents William A. Wilson and James Orr were nominated for County Commissioner along with Simeon W. Green.

Nominated for Judges of the Orphans Court were Hugh Stevenson, J. French Van Meter and William C. Abbott.

In top place for seven positions on the State Central Committee were Edgar M. Lewis, Woodrow W. Gurley, William W. Williams, Victor M. Hebb, Melvin S. Sloan, Thomas Elias and J. Kenneth Morgan.

Judge Denies Two Motions By Burgess

Will Not Get Another Trial

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday filed a brief opinion and order in Allegany County Circuit Court denying two motions filed last week in behalf of Charles E. Burgess.

On May 12, Judge Harris had heard evidence in a suit for back salary brought by Burgess against the Endless Tread Tractor Corporation which he formerly headed and a cross-claim brought by the corporation against Burgess.

Judge Harris decided then that Burgess was entitled to a $101 verdict in his suit but on the other hand the company, which had a small plant at Short Gap, W. Va., was entitled to a $4,290 verdict from him for funds not received.

Last Thursday, Burgess, as the cross-claim defendant, moved for judgment in his favor notwithstanding the verdict for $4,290 to the corporation. The principal reason for the motion was that J. Kenneth Morgan, the certified public accountant who made an audit of the Endless Tread Tractor Corporation, testified that Dr. David H. Miller gave him a confirmation that he paid $1,000 for 500 shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

Judge Harris notes in his opinion on the motion that while it is true that this confirmation was given, Dr. Miller, now has given Burgess an affidavit that he paid only $500 for the 500 shares.

"The certified public accountant had testified further that he thought the 2300 shares of stock sold by Burgess were worth $1 per share at the time the sales were made," Judge Harris states.

"The actual purchase price of the shares of stock sold to Dr. Miller confirms the valuation placed on the 2300 shares by the certified public accountant who made the audit. The auditor arrived at the valuation of $1 per share from the shares of stock that were sold and recorded on the records of the corporation."

"The purchase price of the stock by Dr. David H. Miller at $1 per share would not have changed the opinion of the court if it had been so testified when the case was tried and does not change the opinion of the court now as to the value of the stock," Judge Harris concluded.

Thomas N. Berry was attorney for Burgess and William H. Gelpert represented the corporation.

Woman Breaks Arm In Fall At Home

A 63-year-old woman fractured her right arm Monday about 5:30 p. m. when she fell at home.

Mrs. Belva Brotemarkle, wife of Roland Brotemarkle, 702 Oldtown Road, was admitted to Memorial Hospital, attaches said.

Two Hurt In Road Accident

Shockey Infant Is "Critical"

Two members of a Corriganville family were hospitalized here last night with injuries sustained in a one-car highway crash about a mile east of that community on Mt. Savage Road.

In "critical" condition at Memorial Hospital late last night was James E. Shockey, six-month-old son of James C. and Kathleen Shockey.

The child, according to attaches, suffered possible head injuries and internal injuries. His mother, Kathleen, who is 24, was in "fair" condition at the hospital with a fractured pelvis, lacerations of her left elbow and abrasions.

The father was uninjured although another child, Debra Ann, aged eight, sustained a bump on her head. State Police said that Shockey was driving toward Cumberland on the new stretch of highway recently opened to traffic.

They said the driver had passed a couple of cars and was attempting to pass another car when he saw an oncoming vehicle. As he tried to get back into his lane of traffic, the car skidded out of control to the right of the highway and careened down an embankment for a distance of about 17 feet and upset, landing on its right side.

The parents and young infant were riding in the front seat while the other youngster was in the rear seat.

They were taken to the local hospital in the ambulance of the volunteer firemen of Corriganville, Troopers Willis Foreman and George Robinette said no charges have been filed pending a full investigation. The accident occurred about 7:15 p. m.

Woman Hospitalized After Car Crashes

Mrs. Shirley Ann Lee, 20, of 217 Union Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital last night with injuries sustained in a one-car crash at the intersection of Bedford Road and Nave's Crossroad.

She was reported in good condition by attaches who said she was complaining of her pelvis and hips. Police said she had suffered a possible fractured left hip and lacerations. Mrs. Lee's husband, Robert Eugene Lee, 27, driver of the car, was uninjured.

State Police said the husband was driving along Route 220 when a car operated by Anthony Francis Molinari, of 508 Columbia Avenue, pulled out of Route 395 into the path of Lee's car.

Lee, they said, applied his brakes and skidded into a utility pole to the right of the highway.

Tfc. Jack Browning said no charges have been filed pending an investigation. The crash occurred about 7:15 p. m.

Dr. Pullen Talks About College Possibility Here

Interested Group Discusses Need

Maryland's superintendent of schools came to Cumberland yesterday to discuss with a group of public-spirited local citizens the proposal that a junior college be established here under the supervision of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Dr. Thomas C. Pullen, the state superintendent, and W. Theodore Boston, director of certification and accreditation, came here yesterday for a discussion with the local group in the office of the County Board of Education.

Yesterday's meeting was an outgrowth of a report submitted by the State Department of Education last October which recommended especially that a junior college be established in Cumberland under the control of the County Board of Education.

This report was in response to identical resolutions passed by the House of Delegates and State Senate in 1957 requesting a study and report by the State Department of Education on the advisability of education beyond the high school level in Cumberland and Allegany County.

One specific recommendation that came from yesterday's meeting was that the restriction be removed limiting to about 100 the number of students enrolled in the junior college program at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Dr. Pullen explained that the General Assembly is responsible for this limitation by requiring that all who wish to enroll in the teacher's college program be provided for first. That has kept the junior college enrollment to about 100 out of a student body of 565.

The conferees agreed, according to Dr. Pullen, that they should work together to assure greater opportunity for education beyond high school in Cumberland and Allegany County. They had no specific answers as to how to reach that objective.

They agreed there is no easy way to solve the problem. Any program developed should be comprehensive enough to serve the needs of all students for education beyond high school.

Those participating in the discussions with Dr. Pullen and Mr. Boston were County Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, Dr. Charles A. Orlick, Dr. Gordon Sutherland, John E. Geare, C. William Gilchrist, Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, retired superintendent of schools; Dr. Lillian C. Compton, retired president of Frostburg State Teachers College; Mrs. William A. Douglas and Howard W. Irwin.

"Harmony Ticket" Romps In County Demo Primary

J. Millard Tawes led the "harmony ticket" to a convincing victory in the Allegany County Democratic primary election yesterday as approximately 32 per cent of the registered voters turned out in the county's 45 polling places.

The present State Comptroller from Somerset County received 3,989 votes in his bid for the governor's chair to easily outdistance three token opponents in the unofficial results tabulated last night.

Other members of the "harmony ticket" also finished on top in the county primary, running roughshod over all opposition. Baltimore City's Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., led six opponents including perennial loser George P. Mahoney, Baltimore County contractor, building up a lead of nearly 1,000 votes over Mahoney in the bitterly fought contest for U. S. Senator.

In the battle for State Comptroller, State Senator Louis L. Goldstein of Calvert County doubled the returns on his nearest competitor, Joseph J. Manning, in the unofficial tabulation, 2,439 to 1,229. The third opponent in the comptroller race, Sidney London had only 321 votes.

John R. Foley, backed by labor's endorsement, picked up strength as the returns came in and defeated Edward D. Storm of Frederick County after a fierce battle for nomination as U. S. Representative to Maryland's Sixth District. Foley's total was 500 votes more than the combined total of the three other candidates, David A. Heller, James H. Mann and Richard Henry Speidel, all of Montgomery County.

Unofficial returns of the county's 45 precincts:

For U. S. Senator
 Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. 2,865
 George P. Mahoney 1,867
 James Bruce 436
 Clarence D. Long 232
 William F. Fidler Jr. 69
 Alden A. Potter 51
 Andrew J. Easter 49

For Governor
 J. Millard Tawes 3,989
 Bruce S. Campbell 535
 Morgan L. Amalmo 201
 Joseph H. Phillips 138

For Congress
 John R. Foley 1,848
 Edward D. Storm 978
 James H. Mann 708
 David A. Heller 365
 Richard Henry Speidel 275

In the battle for county offices John Tucker Mason, John J. Rowan and William J. Brode won nomination as county commissioners, defeating James P. Russell and Francis J. Duckworth. Mason led the close balloting for the three offices with 2,531 votes.

Edward J. Ryan, Cumberland attorney who previously ran for Congress and Allegany County circuit judge, campaigned independently and finished ahead of the five incumbents for members of the Democratic State Central Committee. The lawyer polled 3,508 votes, second only to Tawes on the ballot. His nearest competitor was Thomas B. Finan, present chairman of the committee who had 3,423 votes.

Also selected on the committee were incumbents John R. Kelly, William P. Kelly, F. Allan Weatherholt and C. William McDermott. Only Alex E. Patton, another independent campaigner, was defeated in his bid for a seat on committee.

Unofficial results of the county races:

For State Central Committee:
 Edward J. Ryan 3,508
 Thomas B. Finan 3,423
 C. William McDermott 2,939
 F. Allan Weatherholt 2,518
 William P. Kelly 2,491

Youth Injured In 30-Foot Fall

An 18-year-old local youth escaped serious injury yesterday when he plunged about 30 feet to the ground from a utility lines tower located near Long Street on West Side.

Daniel Eugene Jones, of Apartment 7, Jane Frazier Village, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, where his condition last night was reported as "good." Attaches said he sustained undetermined injuries as well as lacerations of his scalp and ear. He will be X-rayed today, they said.

City Police Officer John Snyder, who investigated with Officer Fred Daum, said that Jones and two other youths were seen in the vicinity of the tower yesterday about 3:45 p. m. shortly before police received a call the victim had plunged to the ground. The two other youths ran from the scene before police arrived.

Officer Snyder said when he arrived at the scene the youth was sitting against the tower on the ground with a blanket wrapped around him.
